What Everybody Wants.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR: containing in plain language, free from medical terms, the CAUSES, SYMPTOMS and CURE of disease in every form, with important RULES FOR PRESERVING THE HEALTH, and Directions for the Sick Chamber, and the Proper Treatment of the Sick.—This book is written in a plain, easy and familiar style, adapted expressly to family and individual use. It advocates no particular theory of medicine, but draws alike from the Flowers of the Field, the Plants of the Garden or the Minerals of Earth, for such Remedies as have proved the most simple, safe, and effectuala believing that wherever disease has found a foothold, there the Giver of all Good has, in some form, mercifully placed a Specific. Neither does it profess to supercede the physician, but only to avoid the necessity and expense of calling him in except in dangerous cases. It is in fact a physician itself, always at hand and ready to serve you, while its simple receipt may soon save you many times its cost.

It contains 308 pages, in a clear and open type, is illustrated by appropriate engravings, and will be forwarded to your address, postage paid and neatly bound, on receipts of the price $1 00. Everybody should have it.

Agents wanted everywhere, who will find it very popular, and with whom liberal arrangements will be made. Address,

BEAUTY, WIT AND GOLD.

In a bower a widow dwelt,
At her feet three lover's knelt;
Each ador'd the widow much,
Each essay'd her heart to touch;
One had wit, and one had gold,
One was cast in beauty's mould;
Guess which was it won the prize,
Tongue, or purse, or handsome eyes?

First began the handsome man,
Peeping proudly o'er her fan,
Red his lips and white his skin,
Could such beauty fail to win?
Then stepped forth the man of gold,
Cash he counted, coin he told;
Wealth the burden of his tale.
Could such golden projects fail?

Then the man of wit and sense,
Woo'd her with his eloquence;
Now she heard him with a sigh,
Then she blush'd scarce knowing why;
Then she smiled to hear him speak,
Then a tear was on her cheek;
Beauty vanish, gold depart,
Wit had won the widow's heart.

Miscellaneous.

Pretty Women.

A pretty women is one of the "institutions" of the country—an angel in dry goods and glory. She makes sunshine, blue sky, and happiness wherever she goes. Her path is one of delicious roses, perfumes, and beauty. She is a poem, written in rare curls and choice calico, and good principles. Her words float round the ear like music, birds of paradise, or the chime of Sabbath bells.—Without her, society would lose her truest attractions; the church its firmest reliance, and young men the very best of comforts and company. Her influence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthen the weak, raise the lowly, flannel shirt the heathen, and strengthen the faint heart. Wherever you find the virtuous woman, you also find fireside boquets, clean clothes, order, good living, gentle hearts, music, light, and model institutions generally. She is the flower of humanity, a very Venus in dimity, and her inspiration is the breath of heaven.

How to Enjoy a Kiss.

Some chap who resides within a hundred miles of this place, and who thinks he knows a thing or two, thus discourses about kissing:

"Of course you must be taller than the lady you intend to kiss. Take her right hand in yours, and draw her gently toward you. Pass your left arm over her right shoulder, diagonally down across her back under her left arm, and press her to your bosom, at the same time she will throw her head back and you have nothing to do but to lean a little forward and press your lips to hers, and the thing is done. Don't make a noise over it, as if you were firing percussion caps or trying the water guages of a steam engine, nor pounce down upon it like a hungry hawk upon an innocent dove, but gently fold the damsel in your arms, without deranging the economy of tippit or ruffles, and by a pressure upon her mouth revel in the sweet blissfulness of your situation without smacking your lips on it as you would over a roast duck."

A Curious Love Story.

Says the Easton (Pa.) Argus: "First Love the world generally admits, is always the most sincere. An instance illustrating the truth of this recently came to our knowledge, which is worth repeating. Forty-five years ago, a young man named Peterson, served his apprenticeship at the printing business, in the office of Christian Jacob Hunter, of this place. Whilst in his employ he became interested in a young lady of our town, and proposed marriage. He was accepted, but the mother of the girl opposed the match and broke it off. After finishing his trade, he went to one of the Southern States, and married a sister of Hon. John M. Clayton, former United States Senator from Delaware. After having two children, his wife died and left him a widower. He then emigrated to Canada West, where he became quite a wealthy and prominent man, and filled the office of County Recorder, a life appointment, at Guelph. There he married the second time, and became a second time a widower. Last summer he passed through Easton on his road to Wilmington, where his daughter was at school; and whilst here made inquiry after the sweetheart of his younger days. Ascertaining that she was a widow, and residing in Philadelphia, he called upon her, renewed his acquaintance, and after more than forty years separation, again proposed marriage to her, and was accepted. He was to have come on here this very week to be married, but was taken suddenly sick, about ten days ago, with an attack of pleurisy, and died after a short illness. A few days before his death, he wrote to the object of his first affections, telling her that he was doubtless on his dying bed and never expected to see her again on earth.

"I've Got Orders Not to Go."—"I've got orders, positive orders not to go there; orders that I dare not disobey," said a youth, who was being invited to a smoking and gambling saloon.

"Come, don't be so womanish—come along like a man," shouted the youths.

"What special orders have you got? come, show 'em to us, if you can; show us your orders."

John took out a wallet from his pocket, and pulling out a neatly folded paper, "it's here," he said, unfolding the paper, and showing it to the boys. They looked, and one of them read aloud: "Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not into the path of wicked men. Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away."

"Now," said John, "you see my orders forbid me going with you. They are God's orders, and by his help I don't mean to break them."

Valuable Secret.—The unpleasant odor produced by perspiration is frequently the source of vexation to gentlemen and ladies, some of whom are as subject to its excess as their fellow mortals of another color. Nothing is simpler than the removal of this odor at much less expense and much more effectually than by the application of such costly unguents and perfumes as are in use. It is only necessary to procure some of the compound spirits of ammonia, and place two table-spoonfuls in a basin of water. Washing the face, hands and arms with this leaves the skin as clean, fresh and sweet as one could wish. The wash being perfectly harmless, and very cheap, we recommend it on the authority of one of our most experienced physicians to our readers.—Ex.

A Short Clergyman.

A few miles below Poughkeepsie, N. Y., there now lives, and has lived for several years past, a worthy clergyman, a man, however, very short in stature. Upon a certain Sunday, about eighteen years ago, this clergyman was invited by the pastor of a church to fill his pulpit for the day. The invitation was excepted, and Sunday morning saw Mr. ——— in the pulpit. Now it happened that the pulpit was a very high one, and accordingly nearly hid the poor, little clergyman from view. However, the congregation, out of respect, managed to keep their countenances, and with over pious faces seemed religiously anxious for the text. They were not obliged to wait long, for a nose and two little eyes suddenly appeared over the top of the pulpit, and a squeaking, tremulous voice proclaimed in nasal tones the text:

"Be of good cheer; it is I, be not afraid!"

A general roar of laughter followed the announcement—the clergyman became confused, and turned all sorts of colors. Many in the general uproar left the church, and it was a long time before the minister was enabled to proceed with the sermon so abruptly broken off.

Afternoon came, and the little man, standing on a footstool, had a fair view of his audience. The text was announced in due form:

"A little while ye shall see me, and again a little while and ye shall not see me."

In the course of his sermon he repeated his text with great earnestness, and stepping back, lost his elevated footing and disappeared from his hearers. The effect may be more readily imagined than described.

A Good Story.

An anecdote, worth laughing over, is told of a man who had an infirmity, as well as an appetite for fish. He was anxious to keep up his character for honesty, even while enjoying his favorite meal; and while making a bill with his merchant, as the story goes, and when his back was turned, the honest buyer slipped a codfish up under his coat tail. But the garment was too short to cover up the theft, and the merchant perceived it.

"Now," said the customer, anxious to improve all opportunities to call attention to his virtues, "Mr. Merchant, I have traded with you a great deal, and paid you up honestly and promptly, haven't I?"

"O, yes," said the merchant, "I make no complaint."

"Well," said the customer, "I always insisted that honesty is the best policy, and the best rule to live and die by."

"That's so," returned the merchant.

And the customer turned to depart.

"Hold on, friend," cried the merchant, "speaking of honesty, I have a bit of advice to give you. Whenever you come to trade again, you had better wear a longer coat, or steal a shorter codfish."

Where the Laugh Came In.

Bunce's and Sizer's farms adjoined each other. Sizer had an unruly sheep which was in the habit of getting into Bunce's field. Bunce expostulated with Sizer several times, and then told him if he did not keep his sheep at home, he would fix him so that he wouldn't jump any more fences. But Bunce soon found the sheep back again; so he caught him, and with a knife severed the cuticle or skin just beyond the gambril joint, and between the main cord and bone, then thrust the other hind leg through the aperture, and put the sheep through the fence, who went off hobbling on three legs. Sizer soon after discovered the sad plight his sheep was in, and he knew very well who was the cause of it, but he concluded to take things coolly, and await some suitable opportunity to revenge himself. Presently Bunce's old sow broke into Sizer's field, when he caught her, and with a sharp knife cut her mouth almost from ear to ear, and turned her back. When Bunce discovered this, he went to Sizer in a great rage, and demanded of him what he did that for. Sizer said, "upon my my word, neighbor Bunce, I didn't do any such thing. Your old sow split her mouth laughing at my sheep through the fence!"—Syracuse Standard.

Annecdote of Henry Clay.

The great statesman and orator was traveling somewhere "out West," and put up for the night at a country tavern. "Mine host," in looking over the register, discovered the name of Henry Clay. There was but one "Clay." Could it be possible that he had this distinguished man under hir roof? He was astounded, delighted. Next morning as soon as the "great man" appeared, the amiable boniface bustled forward and made his rude bow.

"Mr. Clay, I believe, sir," said he.

"That is my name," said the gentleman, in his affable tone.

"Mr. Clay, the Congressman?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, sir, I've heared of you, and I thought I'd just ask if you would'nt give me and my old woman a little speech before you go!"

☞An old friend, a distinguished judge and ex-war minister, resident in Pennsylvania, tells a good story of a Dutch neighbor of his who had the gout, and was greatly puzzled to know how he came by it.

"What is the matter with you, my friend!" inquired the judge, who had called in to see his sick neighbor.

"Vell, I don't know, chudge; dey say it ish de cout; but vy should I have de cout?—I lives plain; I don't eat too much nor drink too much; vy should I have the cout?

"Perhaps," suggested the judge, "it is hereditary."

"Vell," replied the invalid, with the look of a man who has been suddenly enlightened on a difficult subject—"Vell, I guess it ish hereditary—I remember my wife's uncle had de cout."

☞The Missouri Republican tells a story of a young man who had no money, but who wanted to visit Connecticut, and who packed himself into a box and had himself called for by the expressman. The discrepancy between the large size of the box and its light weight caused suspicions to be engendered in the driver's mind, and an investigation disclosed the young man, already nearly out of breath and bathed in tears.

St. Louis and Chicago.—A correspondent of the Laconia, N. H., Democrat, writing from St. Louis, says:

In its general appearance St. Louis resembles Boston. Unlike Boston the retail stores, rum and beer shops are all open on Sunday. On the principal streets every third door is a drinking saloon. At Chicago every other door is a rum hole and the one next to it a lager beer shop.

Old Hoss, You're Too Late.

Early this morning there were added to our company of travelers a pair who looked like runaways; the gentleman was a tall, raw-boned specimen of the "half horse, half aligator" class, and the lady a fair match for him. Among the passengers from Napoleon is a solemn looking gentleman, who has all along been taken for a preacher. About nine o'clock last night I was conversing with the "reverend" gentleman, when a young man stepped up, and addressing him, remarked, "We are going to have a wedding, and would like you to officiate." "All right, sir," he replied, laughingly, and we stepped into the ladies' cabin, where, sure enough, the couple stood waiting. There had been some kissing games, and several mock marriages gone through with during the evening, and I supposed this was merely a continuation of the sport; and so thought the "preacher" who, I could see, had a good deal of humor in him, and was inclined to promote general good feeling and merriment. The couple stood up before him, (a good deal more solemn than was necessary in a mock marriage. I thought,) and the "preacher" asked the necessary questions, and then proceeding in the usual way, announced them "husband and wife." There was a good deal of fun afterward, and when it was over, I left the cabin—and so did the "preacher," who remarked to me that he liked to see the young folks enjoying themselves, and took a great deal of pleasure in contributing to their fun; but he did not understand why they should select him to act the preacher.

Just then some one called me aside, and the old gentleman stepped into his stateroom, which was next to mine. When I returned, the door stood open, and the "preacher" stood just inside with his coat and vest off, and one boot in his hand, talking with the gentleman who played the "attendant," and who as I came up, remarked: "Well, if that is the case, it is a good joke, for they are in dead earnest and have retired to the same stateroom." The old gentleman raised both hands as he exclaimed:—"Good heavens!—you don't tell me so!" and rushing, just as he was, boot in hand, to the stateroom indicated, commenced an assault on the door as if he would batter it down, exclaiming at each lick: "For Heaven's sake! I ain't a preacher!" The whole cabin was aroused, every stateroom door flying open with a slam, when the door opened, and the "Arkansas traveler," poking out his head, coolly remarked: "Old hoss—you're rather too late!"

A Nigger Story.

Two darkies had bought a mess of pork in partnership, but Sam having no place to put his portion in, consented to entrust the whole to Julius' keeping.

The next morning they met, when Sam says—

"Good mornin', Julius, anything happen strange or mysterious down in your wicinity, lately?"

"Yaas, Sam, most a strange thing happen at my house yesterlast night. All mystery, all mystery to me."

"Ah, Julius, what was dat?"

"Well, Sam, I tole you now. Dis mornin' I went down into de seller for to get a piece of hog for dis darkey's breakfast, and I put my hand down in de brine an felt all round, but no pork dere—all gone. Couldn't tell what bewent with it, so I turned up de bar'l, and Sam, true as preachin', de rats had eat a hole clar froo de bottom, of de bar'l—and dragged de pork all out!"

Sam was petrified with astonishment, but presently said—

"Why didn't de brine run out ob de same hole?"

"Ah, Sam, dat's de mystery—dat's de mystery."

Domestic.—Sickles tragedies are quite common just now. An affecting scene of this kind took place not a thousand miles from La Crescent, in which the following dialogue occurred:

Indignant husband to his wife's lover—"Scoundrel! you have dishonored me and must die." Makes a rush at him with a dagger.

Wife seizes the dagger—"Hold, wretched and imprudent man! What would you do? Would you murder your children's father."—News.

Exchanging Legs.—A gentleman's leg was amputated on Wednesday, at the Massachusetts Hospital, in order that he might have an artificial leg applied. The amputated leg was four inches shorter than its fellow, but perfectly sound. The patient has walked for twenty seven years upon a crutch, but prefers to try the other style of "going ahead," even if it is by means of a wooden propeller.

The Rarey Secret.—In the "Gentleman's Farriery," by Bartlett, (sixth edition) published in 1762, page 293, is the following:—"The method proposed by Dr. Bracken is to tie up one of his fore feet close, and to fasten a cord or small rope around the other fetlock, bringing the end of it over the horse's shoulders; then let him be hit or kicked with your foot behind that knee, at the same time pulling his nose down strongly to the manger, will bring him upon his knees, where he should be held till he is tired, which cannot be long; but if he does not lie down soon let him be thrust sideways against his quarters, to throw him over; by forcing him down several times in this way you may teach him to lie down at the same words you first used for that purpose." Rarey's system is exactly the same.

How to Speak in Public.—When you mount the stand be puzzled where to put your hat. Look around as though you were quite cool and collected, and suddenly put your hat upon the floor. Turn to the audience, pass your fingers through your hair, and say, "Fellow-citizens," extend your right hand, put your left on your vest, on whichever side in your private opinion your heart lies, swell out your chest as though all the goddesses of liberty in the world had left their respective countries, and had taken board and lodging in our expansive bosom, and were now struggling to find their way out. Repress their generous efforts for a moment, and then burst right out, leading off with a brief eulogy on the American eagle. The effect will be tremendous.

☞When the celebrated Dunning, afterwards Lord Ashburton, was "stating law" to a jury in court, Lord Mansfield interrupted him by saying, "If that be law, I'll go home and burn my books." "My lord," replied Dunning, "you had better go home and read them."

The Extreme of Laziness.—"How is it," said a man to his neighbor, "that Parson W——, the laziest man living, writes these interminably long sermons?"

"Why," says the other, "he probably gets to writing and is too lazy to stop."

What Made West a Painter.—The celebrated Benjamin West related that his mother once kissed him eagerly when he showed her a likeness he had sketched of his baby sister; and he adds, "That kiss made me a painter."

Funeral of a Siberian Chief.

At a late meeting of the London Royal Historical Society, Mr. Atkinson, whose interesting travels among the Kirgiz, and other nomades of Siberia, have recently been published, delivered to the meeting "A Narrative of some of his Adventures among those rarely visited tribes," giving a graphic picture of their habits and manners. The following is an account of the funeral of a chief named Darma Syrym, who died near Norznisan, when Mr. Atkinson was on a visit to the tribe:

"So soon as the chief was dead, messengers were sent off to invite the head men residing within a hundred miles, who all immediately repaired to the place. The body of the chief was laid out in his best attire, his chair of state was placed at his head, his saddle, arms, and clothing were hung around, and silk curtains were suspended from the roof of his yourt. His wives and daughters, with the females of the tribe knelt around, chanting the funeral dirge, in which the voices of men occasionally joined. While this way going on, the funeral feast was preparing. Ten horses and a hundred sheep were slaughtered, and the flesh was thrown into numerous cauldrons, boiling over fires kindled in the ground, which were constantly kept stirred by men stripped to the waist. When a sufficient quantity of food was dressed, the feast began. The guests sat in a circle round the meat, the chiefs nearest the centre; those of next degree next them; and the woman outside.

The feast lasted seven days, during which 2,000 persons partook heartily in the consumption of mutton and horse-flesh. On the eighth day the body was conveyed to the tomb on a camel; the camel also carried the chair of state. The two favorite horses of the chief followed; after which went the whole tribe, singing the funeral hymn. On reaching the place of burial, the body was deposited in the grave, and the horses were forthwith slain, and placed beside the body of their master. When the grave was filled up, all returned to the encampment to continue the funeral feast, which was furnished by 100 horses and 1,000 sheep, slaughtered of the occasion. The festival continued for several days after the burial, the chiefs and the family of the deceased chanting his praises every day, until all the guests had gradually departed for their homes. The feast was kept up by the tribe for a considerable time afterwards; and the chanting was repeated every day, at sunrise and sunset, for a whole year. Mr. Atkinson dwelt on the very impressive nature of the ceremony,—the wailing music of the funeral chants—the sorrow, apparent at least, exhibited by an immense concourse of mourners mingled with the almost savage accompaniment of the feast; all this, in the midst of a desert which seemed of unlimited extent, produced an effect which an Englishman finds it difficult to picture to himself."

The Democratic Party.

A few months ago it was exultingly, proclaimed (says the Philadelphia Argus) by the opponents to Democracy in this State, that our party was hopelessly divided, and that never again could harmony be restored to its ranks. Because we had differed on the Kansas question it was argued that we must differ on all questions and for all coming time. But a very brief period has dispelled this erroneous idea, and with rare exceptions—we may as well particularize, and say, with three exceptions—every paper claiming to be Democratic gives a cordial support to the nominees and principles of that party. In a late number of the Perry county Democrat we find the following in regard to the feeling of that section. The Democrat was, it will be remembered, opposed to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution:

"During the present week we have conversed with a very large number of Democrats, from all parts of the county, and are much gratified to find that the very best feeling pervades the Democratic party of this county. All are anxious, and we believe, sincerely, to see a harmonious Convention and a good ticket nominated. If the designs of the Opposition to engender strife among ourselves, continue to be regarded and understood as they now are by Democrats, we will have no trouble in our camp, and the nominees of the party will be triumphantly elected."

Where are They Going?

There need be no longer any doubt in the public mind as to the course the adherents of Governor Packer intend to pursue at the approaching general election. It has been publicly announced, in two quarters, most likely to be well informed on the subject; first, by J. S. Richards, Esq., at the K. N. Republican Meeting in this city, on Monday last; who said it was understood that the friends of Governor Packer (or the Schwartz men) would vote the Opposition State Ticket, and that they, (the Opposition) would vote the County Ticket nominated by the former; and secondly, by Mr. John W. Forney, the leader of the Packer wing, who, in his speech delivered here on Wednesday, declared that they (the so called "State Rights Democracy") would not vote the Democratic State Ticket. In confirmation of these statements, the State Journal, a new Opposition paper, just started in Philadelphia, makes the following announcement:

"It is generally understood here that the friends of Govenor Packer over the State will vote for the Opposition candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General; consequently these gentlemen, who are both well known and popular, will be elected by an unprecedented majority. The Buchanan nominees for these offices will be so badly beaten, that they will never attempt to inquire what hit them."

It is therefore no longer a matter of doubt where we shall have to look for Gov. Packer and his friends hereafter. They publicly avow their alliance with the Opposition, and their desertion of all but the name of Democracy, which they still adhere to, as a cover for their treachery.—Reading Gazette.

What Good has it Done!—The cost of the Utah army, up to the end of the second quarter, was over $5,000,000, and add to this the estimate for the fiscal year ending June 1st, and the expense of that army for one year will range between seven and nine millions.—Manchester American.

The expense to the Government, of the Utah army, is a thing to be deplored, but it results from the necessity of sending it; and in reply to the question of the American—"What good has it done?"—we answer that it has done what was expected of it and what it was sent out there to do. It has subdued a rebellion and reduced a rebellious people to subordination to the laws and subjection to the civil power. That it is still necessary to continue the army in Utah, is evident from the latest reports. That it may be necessary even to send reinforcements, is possible. But it ill-becomes a paper or a party that has denounced Mormonism as a "relic of barbarism," to find fault with the result of this necessary, and thus far, successful expedition.—N. H. Patriot.

The Pennsylvania Campaign of '59.

The political campaign of 1859, in Pennsylvania, may now be said to be fully opened. The two parties have held their Conventions and nominated their candidates.

There are important considerations involved in this contest, which cannot be overlooked and disregarded by any good citizen.—Pennsylvania has great interests that are to be entrusted to the State officers who shall be elected in October next; and every voter and tax-payer should aim to secure the success of those men in whose care these interests would be most certainly safe. That the Democratic nominees are in all respects worthy of the posts for which they are named, none who know them can doubt. They, both, are tried men. JOHN ROWE has filled the office of Surveyor General, since May, '57, and not a word of censure or complaint against him has been heard from any quarter. It is sufficient, and also due to say of him, that so satisfactory has been his official career, that he was re-nominated by a unanimous vote—a high compliment to a worthy man. RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT is not a new and unknown man. He has served several years in the Legislature, first in the House and then in the Senate, and he has served honestly, with an eye single to the interests and welfare of the Commonwealth and his constituents. Mr. WRIGHT'S ambition as a public man, shown by his record, has been, and is, to be right and to do right; to oppose wrong and to defeat wrong. While his entire course, or every act, may not be free from what some may regard as error of judgment, it nevertheless distinctly marks him as an honest man, just the kind of man for the office of Auditor General, which has become the most important office in the State so far as the tax-payers are concerned. It holds the key which unlocks the State Treasury; its head has to pass upon all claims and accounts against the States; and accordingly as the office is in charge of an honest and firm man, or one of an accommodating integrity which has not the nerve to say no, will the Commonwealth be protected or plundered through the instrumentality of the incumbent. Recent legislation has added greatly to its importance, by transferring thereto, the business of the Canal Board, for it will probably be years before claims against the State, arising out of the construction, management, &c., of the public works, will cease to be presented. The office is now most faithfully filled by Jacob Fry. He has proved himself a reliable and trusty guardian of the door of the Treasury. No one of his predecessors ever performed its duties more satisfactorily, and it is highly important that he shall be succeeded by one of like honesty and firmness. This Mr. Wright is known to be.

Of the Opposition candidates, Cochran and Keim, it cannot be regarded as an unjust disparagement to say that in no respect have they superior claims or qualifications, and that there is nothing in their history to recommend them specially to the confidence of the people in preference to their Democratic competitors. They are certainly not of equal experience, and neither of them has reputation for, or given evidence of, that peculiar trait of character which points out a man as one preeminently fitted for trusts requiring in their proper fulfilment the most rigid honesty and unyielding firmness in behalf of the State, and against all efforts to defraud or wrong her.

Democrats can have no hesitation as to their course in this contest. Regard for the State interests and duty to their Party, happily unite in recommending, aye, in dictating, a cordial, earnest and active support of Richardson L. Wright and John Rowe, for Auditor General and Surveyor-General. There is nothing in the past or present, to warrant or excuse a contrary line of action, on the part of any who profess the name of Democrat, or who desire to continue in fellowship with the party. And if we look to the future, the considerations demanding present union and concert of action in support of these nominees, cannot be honorably disregarded. The contest of '59 is but preliminary to that of '60, which will decide whether Pennsylvania is to be an Abolition or a Democratic State; and in view of that issue and the importance of its right decision, all past differences of opinion among the Democracy, (differences now of little or no consequence, and a year hence, sure to be buried in oblivion,) are utterly insignificant and unworthy of a moment's attention from any reflecting, right-thinking Democrat. The National Convention, the High Court of the party, composed of representatives from all the States and uninfluenced by section or faction, will then have acted, and, as in '52 and '56, the Democrats—all Democrats—North and South, East and West, will stand as a band of brothers, inspired by the patriotism of their fathers, upon the common platform of the Constitution and the Union, in support of the regular nominees of the party, and in opposition to sectional Abolitionism in whatever shape or guise of "People"-ism, "American-Republican"-ism or "Opposition"-ism it may present itself. The Democracy of Pennsylvania have an important, perhaps a decisive part to act in that great national struggle. Therefore it becomes them to prepare to acquit themselves creditably and successfully then, by acting now with that union and energy which will bring success in October next.

And why, with such candidates as Wright and Rowe, shall the Democracy of Pennsylvania not be triumphant? We know of no reason, in the past, the present, or the future, that should restrain any Democrat from laboring for such a result. Lecomptonism and Anti-Lecomptonism are gone, never to return again. Shades of differences of opinion on abstract questions of Constitutional power in the General Government and in the Territories—questions which belong to and will at last have to be determined by the Courts, cannot and will not be permitted to sunder and disorganize Pennsylvania Democrats.—Disappointed and desperate men whose selfish purposes have not been realized, and who therefore would ruin because they cannot rule, may, regardless of truth, principle and consistency, strive to sow the seeds of disaffection, and thus give "aid and comfort to the enemy;" but it is gratifying to know that such are understood and properly appreciated by the honest and patriotic masses in all parts of the Commonwealth, and that their influence for evil is but little if any greater than that of open and undisguised Abolitionists, in whose behalf and for whose benefit, they speak, write, publish and labor.

From every part of the State, our information is of the most encouraging character.—The Democratic journals of the State which, three months ago, were more or less discontented, are now a unit in support of the State ticket, and everywhere we have the most cheering indications that the Democratic voters are moved by the same spirit, and actuated by a determination to stand unfalteringly by the candidates and organization of the party, and to make an earnest and united effort to redeem the Old Keystone from the disgrace of the Abolition triumph of '58.—Pennsylvanian.

☞Dr. Steane, in his reminiscences of a visit to Sweden, describes the mode of saying grace. The company stand round the table, and at some considerable distance from it—the gentlemen, for the most part, if not always, with their hands clasped and held on their breasts. Profound silence ensues perhaps for a minute, or it may be two, when the ladies drop a courtesy and the gentlemen make a bow, and then the company takes their seats. After dinner there is sometimes an addition, one of the party striking up a verse of some well-known hymn, when all join in singing it.

McClure's Libel Suit.

Our readers will be surprised to learn that after all McClure's bluster—all the sympathy manufactured for injured innocence—all the paid for newspaper puffs—all the certificates of good character, and all the whining, belching and bleating, over the terrible mountain of libels, the said mountain labored and brought forth a mouse and a half—the caudel extremity of the critter being cut off 'smack smoove' in order to enable it to turn an acute angle without damage. What will all his toadies, and hired scribbers, say to this after expending so much sympathy on him, and pronouncing him such a badly libelled man? It seems he does not consider himself so badly libelled as they would represent. But, then, they are presumed to know more about the matter than he does himself, and if they should stretch a figure or so in his behalf, the means justify the end and their consciences are quieted. After all the froth and fury McClure does not venture to go into Court and prosecute on more than one and a part of another, of these "suspicions." He carefully, cautiously and prudently selected the one in which he is "suspected" for being after some of the pickings in a certain Divorce Bill, and the part of another in which he is "suspected" for loafing about the Executive Anti-Chamber to the disgust of Gov. Pollock. In this "suspicion" he stops short at a comma, and cuts off that portion wherein he is suspected of being pecuniarily interested in the signing of certain Acts of Assembly! What a cautious man! Or was it the stern necessity of the case that narrowed him down to this small point?

As it is McClure's object to manufacture political capital out of these suits, we will here give a true statement of their progress, so far, in order to counteract the falsehoods he will be required to invent to cover his inglorious prosecution. On Tuesday afternoon, the 9th inst., these indictments were sent in to the Grand Jury and returned the same evening. On the next morning, before the charges could be examined, or a witness subpœnaed, McClure had the case called up for trial. It was well understood in court that this was all done for effect, and that the anxiety to go to trial was all bosh. The Counsel for the Defendants desired time to examine the Indictments, and the Stevenson Will Case, which had previously been fixed for trial on Wednesday, was then proceeded with. The Will case lasted until Thursday evening. The libel case was then called again and defendants' Counsel said they were about to file a motion to quash the indictments for informality, and that they would most likely ask for a continuance. On Friday Judge Kimmell was sick and there was no court held. On Saturday the court met and the Judge not feeling able to sit the jury was discharged, and the business continued until Monday, 15th inst. On Monday the defendants appeared in Court and entered into their own recognizance, in one hundred dollars, to appear at the October Term.

All the political capital McClure has thus far manufactured out of his Libel suit would not elect him Dog pelter, and before he is through with them his character will be exhibited in its true light, that of being one of the most corrupt politicians Pennsylvania ever had.

News, etc.

The result of the recent Southern elections demonstrates beyond all controversy that the Opposition cannot carry a single Southern State in 1860. Great efforts were made to carry Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, but the result in those States, while showing a gain of Opposition members of Congress, from local causes, at the same time indicates a fixed and immovable Democratic popular majority.

The Democratic State Ticket appears to be gaining ground daily. A more unexceptionable ticket has never been placed before the people of Pennsylvania, and as a consequence it must command the admiration and support of the people of the State.

Skies Bright!

We had opportunities of conversing with Democrats from all parts of the county last week, during the holding of the August term of Court, and find that in all quarters the Democratic ticket is received with a satisfaction and an endorsement almost unprecedented in its unanimity. This is as it should always be, and is the reliable harbinger of success.

Democrats, close ranks! Watch the enemy—observe their manœuvres—and thwart them at every point!

☞ The York Gazette pronounces the Democratic ticket of this county an excellent one, (commendation it is well worthy of,) and remarks:

"We expect to hear a good result from Adams this fall, and we feel satisfied that the sterling Democracy of that county will do their whole duty."

All right! You shall not be disappointed. With correct principles and an unexceptionable and popular ticket, the Democracy of Adams cannot fail of a "GOOD RESULT." Put us down "O. K!"

The Western Pennsylvania Democracy.—The Pittsburg Post has the most cheering accounts of the Democracy in the western counties of this State. As the time approaches for deciding the political complexion of the State, the earnest, honest working men of the party do not hesitate to declare all past differences forgotten, and express a willingness to co-operate for the election of the State ticket. This is as it should be, and we hail the return of friendly feeling as a certain harbinger of success. The Post has not a doubt of the triumphant election of the State ticket.

☞ Rev. C. P. Krauth, D. D., of Pittsburg, has been elected pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Philadelphia, and accepts.

The Southern Elections

That have taken place during the present month, leave no room for doubt to any unprejudiced mind, that the popular sentiment is decidedly against the Opposition.

Kentucky is more strongly Democratic than at any period within the last thirty years. When the Governor and other State officers recently elected, enter upon their duties, all her Departments will be in Democratic hands, and as soon as her Legislature elects a successor to Mr. CRITTENDEN, in the United States Senate, she will be represented in that body by two Democrats!

Tennessee has re-elected Gov. HARRIS by a majority greater than that received by any Gubernatorial candidate, except himself in 1857, since 1837, and the legislature is Democratic in both branches.

Alabama has re-elected Gov. MOORE, the regular Democratic nominee, over an ultra slave code man, by a majority exceeding twenty thousand.

North Carolina has gone largely for the Democracy on the popular vote.

Texas has elected Gen. HOUSTON, who ran as an independent candidate for Governor, by a majority of several thousand. He owes his success to his frequent declarations during the campaign, of friendship for President BUCHANAN's Administration, and of opposition to filibustering and the re-opening of the African slave trade, and his open abandonment of Know-nothingism.

Tennessee Election.

It is not generally understood why the Opposition have succeeded in electing seven out of ten Congressmen in Tennessee, when the Democratic State ticket was elected by eight or ten thousand majority. The present Congressional apportionment of the State was made by an Opposition Legislature, and the design was to secure eight districts to their own party beyond possibility of loss. But two districts were so formed as to leave any hope of electing Democratic members. Hence while the State is Democratic by at least eight thousand, her representation in Congress bears a different complexion. Of the election of Governor the Nashville Union says:—

"This is the most magnificent triumph ever achieved by any other candidate in Tennessee. Two years ago the vote fell off heavily, the Know Nothings were in a dying condition, and the Opposition had not been begotten. This year the Opposition expected to carry the State, and made an effort which has never before been equalled by the opponents of Democracy in Tennessee. The last hope of John Bell was involved in the contest, and his partizans fought with the energy of despair. A majority of near NINE THOUSAND in the heaviest vote ever cast in the State, is a verdict which may be regarded as conclusive. We repeat, that the election of Gov. Harris, by such a majority, and over such an effort as was made against him, is the most majestic triumph which any man has ever obtained in a race for Governor in Tennessee."

"Our friend, Mr. DIEHL, we have an idea, will fall somewhat behind his worthy competitor, Mr. DURBORAW, as we have heard it intimated, whether true or not we cannot say, that he voted against Mr. WILL last year, and that gentleman and his friends might feel disposed to return the compliment this year."—Adams Sentinel.

☞ The editor of the Sentinel has a way of giving currency to a falsehood peculiarly his own, and the above extract exhibits a case in point. Whilst with one arm encircling and fondly embracing a "friend," all smiles and kind professions to his face, he inflicts with the other a quiet and intended-to-be fatal stab in the back. We will venture to say that the editor of that paper did not when he penned it, and does not now, believe a solitary word of the slanderous "intimation," he circulates, that Capt. DIEHL "voted against Mr. WILL last year." And yet it is intended to have all the more injurious effect upon Capt. D. by being couched in the very "friendly" terms which characterize the paragraph. Such tactics may succeed for a while—but the cloven foot is sure to be detected in the end.

Those who know Capt. Diehl as we do to be an honest and earnest Democrat, will not ask a contradiction of the falsehood conveyed in the Sentinel's "intimation," but for the benefit of others we pronounce it basely untrue. Capt. Diehl did vote for Mr. Will last year, and the year before, and interested himself as became him in Mr. Will's behalf. This, many who were present at the election would testify to, were it worth while.

We regard the present as a proper period at which to put our Democratic friends throughout the county on their guard against Know Nothing falsehoods and slanders of all sorts and sizes. Shut your ears to them! They are only gotten up to deceive—to humbug the unwary into the support of the Office-seekers' or Know Nothing Black Republican ticket. The "Superior Council," composed of the leaders, know that their ticket stands no earthly chance of success unless Democratic votes are had for it, and hence their mean, cowardly and unmanly thrusts at Democratic candidates. Let the friends of our cause be warned in time, and treat dark lantern slanderers as they deserve by turning their backs upon them.

"Mr. Durboraw's prospects are very bright; and we look forward to his election by an increased majority."—Adams Sentinel.

☞ All gammon! That Mr. Durboraw himself lacks the confidence in the chances of success he had last year can be seen "sticking out." He already sees the handwriting on the wall, and the "Superior Councellors" can discern nothing in the prospect that will enable them to give him encouragement. Their only hope now is in the effect their abuse and misrepresentation of Democratic candidates may have. So frail a thread do their fortunes hang upon.

The Kentucky Vote.—The vote cast in Kentucky at the late election, was very heavy.—It considerably exceeds that given at the Presidential election. MAGOFFIN's majority will be about eight thousand three hundred, and Mr. BOYD's, for Lieutenant, will be about eleven thousand. Still, Mr. BOYD's vote is not as large as Mr. MAGOFFIN's by several thousands.

Changed its Name.—The old Warren County Bank, which fell into bad credit some time ago, has had its name changed by the Court of that county, to "The North Western Bank." We do not know, however, that this will make its notes any better. We advise our readers not to touch them until they hear of some more substantial change in the affairs of the Bank, than that of its name merely.—Exchange.

The Warren County Bank is in the same condition of our political enemies—rotten to the core—and like them, hopes to deceive the people by a change of name. The game won't work, for one or the other.

☞ Capt. GEORGE SANDERSON, the able editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer, is spoken of for the next Governor. Couldn't elect a better one.

Casting off Extinct Politicians.

The distinctive Republicans have no tears to shed at the defeat of the Opposition in the South. On the contrary, they experience a sensation of relief that the overthrow of the Southern Opposition thwarts the plans of the party at the North favorable to a National organization. Hereafter the field is clear for the operators of the Republicans. The New York Evening Post, in an article on the late elections at the South, takes no pains to conceal its gratification, but later alluding to the ultra position taken by the Southern Opposition says:

"Such is the policy, and such its impotent result, of a faction whose file leader, Mr. Crittenden, has been commended to the Republicans as a suitable candidate for the Presidency. For the sake of fellowship with these extinct politicians was the party urged to forego the assertion of those distinctive principles which give vitality to the Republican organization, and the abandonment of which would drive away the mass of its most efficient and unselfish supporters. For the honor of being patted on the head and saluted as a "national party" by such allies, we in New York were requested to surrender our integrity, to forget our solemn and reiterated pledges, and all this with the inevitable result of breeding intestine disaffection, building up a third party of political abolitionists, and giving the State to the hands of the spurious Democracy."

The Republicans are determined not to "forego the assertion of their distinctive principles" for the sake of fellowship with "extinct politicians." As far as New York is concerned, we are assured that Republicans will not abate one iota of their distinctive ultraism to conciliate conservatives, moderate men, Americans, or any other class of politicians.

A different policy rules in Pennsylvania.—For the sake of fellowship with all manner of men opposed to the Democracy, the last State Convention consented to "forego the assertion of those distinctive principles which give vitality to the Republican organisation." The platform was a negative piece of nothingness, without point or meaning. It dodged all the great questions before the people, and no man in the Convention had the boldness to express his convictions. The policy was union at all hazards, at any price, by the sacrifice of every principle. So completely is the party in subjection to this policy that there does not exist a paper in Pennsylvania that dares speak out boldly like the Post. The Opposition press and politicians have agreed to avoid the danger of declaring their views upon controverted points.—Patriot & Union.

From the Allentown (Pa.) Democrat.

A few Plain Questions.

Democrats! cut this out and ask your Know Nothing and Republican neighbors the following simple questions:

Who are in favor of giving negroes the right of suffrage which they refused to foreign born citizens?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who passed the law in Massachusetts preventing foreign-born citizens from voting when duly naturalized according to the Constitution of the United States?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who recommended the same law to be passed in New Jersey.

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who recommended the same law to be passed in New York?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who sanctioned and approved that odious measure in Pennsylvania, by giving silent consent in their last State Convention?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who introduced a bill in the Legislature of Ohio to strike out the word "white," from the Constitution, in order to give negroes the right of suffrage?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who are in favor of foreigners not voting until they are 21 years in this country?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who carried banners in 1856 upon which only sixteen States appeared where there should have been thirty-two?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who were in favor of letting the Union slide?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

A Delicate Job.

A Boston correspondent of a Republican paper, himself an intense Republican, speaking of the next Presidential nomination, says:

"The very delicate job of constructing a platform for the Republican party, which shall accommodate John Bell and Wm. H. Seward, Carl Schurz and Gov. Banks, Tom Corwin and Charles Sumner, Eli Thayer and Joshua R. Giddings, will require great attention."

He is right. The job will be a delicate one, and we shall see how well it will be performed.

☞ The Star says Mr. DURBORAW is "every day gaining ground." Yes—"over the left!" Democrats who were humbugged into his support a year ago wouldn't touch him now with a ten-feet pole. And many of his own party will turn from him when they discover, as we shall show them, from the record of the Session, that he did NOT redeem "all his pledges to his constituents!" His Legislative votes are not as unexceptionable as the Star managers, in whose hands he entirely is, would have the people believe. We have "THE DOCUMENTS!"

☞ The announcement lately made in a London paper that the United States Government had acceded to the offer of the five powers for the abolition of privateering is untrue. No concession of the kind has been, or is likely to be, made by our Government.

☞ Boys should look before they leap, when leaping. A boy in Brooklyn, N. Y., named Brown, made a dive on Friday week, and buried his head so deep in the mud that he was unable to extricate himself, and consequently died from suffocation.

☞ A policeman in New York, last Saturday, was about to shoot a horse which had been hopelessly injured by an accident, but in cocking his revolver the hammer slipped, the cap went off, and the ball entered a German's head, killing him almost instantly.

☞ Another Balloon Ascension will be made at Chambersburg, on Saturday, the 27th instant, by J. A. Light, of Lebanon.

☞ Chambersburg is thirty-eight feet higher than Greencastle.

☞ A Pittsburg paper says business is more lively there now than for ten years past.

Another Great Trotting Match—Flora Temple Again Victorious.—There was another exciting trotting match on Eclipse Course, L. I., on Tuesday, between Flora Temple and Princess, on a two mile heat, in which Flora was so incontestibly the victor that she left her competitor, as the phrase goes, "nowhere." Her first heat of two miles was accomplished in the unparalleled time of 4:50½; her second heat of the same distance, in 5:5. The horses are so nearly matched that betters found it most for their interest to keep their money in their pockets, though offers of $100 to $50 on Flora Temple were freely made, with no takers.

Local Affairs.

Proceedings of Court.

The attendance at Court on Monday and Tuesday was unusually large, the new Court House doubtless attracting many besides those coming on business. The building was of course much admired, and will be more so after it shall have received all the finishing touches.

The first suit tried was the old Ejectment case of Witherow vs. Epley, started in 1823, and now being carried on by the heirs and alienees of the original parties, occupying Monday, Tuesday, and part of Wednesday. The Jury rendered a verdict for the Plaintiff for the one undivided half of the property in dispute. Should this judgment be affirmed by the Supreme Court, each of the contesting parties will have secured a verdict, Epley having some years ago had a verdict in his favor affirmed by the Supreme Court. As in ejectment suits, two verdicts out of three are necessary to establish the title, we presume the present trial will not be the end of this long contested case.

The following cases were disposed of in Quarter Sessions:

Com. vs. James A. Doll.—Indictment for Larceny. Defendant not appearing, his recognisance was forfeited, Mary Yeats being the surety.

Com. vs. Jane McBride.—Indictment for Assault and Battery on person of Hannah Penrose. Verdict, Guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

Com. vs. J. Worley Jones.—Indictment for Fornication and Bastardy. Verdict, Guilty. The usual sentence as to support of child, &c., inflicted.

Com. vs. Adam Holtzworth.—Indictment for Assault and Battery, and resisting Samuel Peters, a Police Officer for Borough of Gettysburg. Verdict, Guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and give security in $500 for good behavior for 18 months.

Com. vs. Peter Andrew.—Assault and Battery on information of Jane King. Indictment ignored by Grand Jury—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. George Binder, Jr.—Libel on information of Louisa Krauter. Indictment ignored by Grand Jury—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. J. Worley Jones.—Rape, on information of Mary Bollinger. Indictment ignored—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. Lewis Kummerant and Philip Krizer.—Indictment for Malicious Mischief on information of Charles A. Shorb. Verdict, Guilty, as to Kummerant. Sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

The case of Samuel S. McNair vs. Henry Pecher—summons in debt on three bonds—was commenced on Thursday afternoon, and concluded on Saturday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict for the Defendant at 8 o'clock that evening.

Admitted to Practice.

On Monday last, on motion of Messrs. MCCREARY and WILLS, Messrs. W. A. DUNCAN, A. J. COVER and J. K. MCILHENNY, were admitted to the practice of the Law in the several Courts of Adams county. They underwent a rigid examination in open Court, and acquitted themselves creditably.

In the evening they entertained the members of the bench and bar, the public officers, the press, and others, in a sumptuous manner at the Eagle Hotel, on which occasion, after disposing of the "solids," speeches were made, in response to calls, by Hon. JAMES COOPER, W. H. MILLER, Esq., J. A. STOKES, Esq., Hon. E. MCPHERSON and D. MCCONAUGHY, Esq. The company expressed many warm wishes for the success of the worthy young gentlemen in the profession they have selected.

Messrs. DUNCAN and MCILHENNY will enter into partnership here. Mr. COVER has already opened an office on Baltimore street.

☞ There will be Divine Services in the German Reformed Church of this place next Sabbath, the 28th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M.—Rev. Prof. MUHLENBERG is expected to preach.

Woods Meeting.

A Woods Meeting will commence on the 9th of September, in the evening—to continue several days—near New Chester, in this county. The exercises will be conducted by Rev. Mr. CRAWFORD and the Indian Preacher, with other Ministers of the "Church of God" from a distance.

Sunday School Pic Nic.

The Sabbath School connected with the Catholic Church had a delightful time of it at Spangler's Spring on Wednesday last. The good things were provided in great variety and abundance, and were enjoyed with a relish such as a participation in out-door innocent amusements alone can produce. The Citizens' Band were present, and contributed largely to the pleasure of the occasion by their enlivening music. The juveniles will be impatient for "this time next year" to come round again.

Pic Nic.

The Sabbath School of Christ (Lutheran) Church, in this place, are making arrangements for their annual Pic Nic, which will take place on Wednesday next, on the Conowago, near New Oxford. The Railroad Company will make special arrangements for the occasion. Parents of Sabbath School children and members of the Congregation are invited to participate, and can obtain tickets from the Committee representing the School.

The St. James' Lutheran and German Reformed Sabbath Schools also have Pic Nics in contemplation, at an early day—probably at the same place, but not yet fixed.

☞ Rev. Mr. BOSSERMAN, a Universalist preacher, of Baltimore, and some years ago a resident of this place, held forth to a crowd of persons in the Diamond, on Tuesday evening last, expounding the scriptures in accordance with the version of the Universalists.—What effect, whether any, was produced by his remarks, is not within our knowledge.

☞ ALLEN, the razor powder man, gave our town the benefit of his presence on Monday and Tuesday last, and doubtless "made many souls happy."

☞ Mr. DANIEL BEITLER has disposed of his property in this place to CHARLES WILL, Esq., for $2,500 cash. We suppose Mr. Will will remove here in the spring.

☞ The requisite number of shares of stock having been subscribed for, the Hanover Gas Company was regularly organised on Saturday evening week. They will put up the works without delay.

☞ We notice a number of our citizens have commenced hoeing out the weeds and rank grass, that has been growing so luxuriantly in front of their doors during the summer months. Right.

To Advertisers.

The subscription list of the Compiler has been so much increased since the announcement made a short time ago, of our intention to publish a campaign paper at the rate of twenty-five cents, that it would be well for those who desire to have notices of their business arrangements extensively circulated, to give their advertisements a place in our columns. Those who are anxious to further their own pecuniary interests, should give this matter their especial attention.

Pictures! Pictures!

We call attention to the advertisement of TYSON & BROTHER, in another column. They have opened a Sky-Light Gallery, in the building recently purchased of the County Commissioners by Col. SAMSON, and are prepared to take Likenesses in the most superior styles of the art—Ambrotypes, Photographs, Melainotypes, Sphereotypes, &c. Their specimens of work cannot fail to give them a high recommendation. They intend locating permanently here, and will spare no efforts to deserve the public's favors.

Camp Meeting.

The great Shrewsbury Camp Meeting commenced on Thursday last, and will close on Thursday next. The number of tents on the ground is unusually large, and the crowds in attendance from all quarters are estimated high up in the thousands. Especially was such the case yesterday—special trains from Baltimore, York, Gettysburg, Littlestown and Hanover, contributing no little to the throng. The excursionists from this place left at 7 A. M., and returned about 8½ P. M.—two passenger cars, well filled from this and the way points, composing the train.

Barn Burnt.

On Monday night the barn of Mr. A. LOHR, about 9 miles from Chambersburg, was struck by lightning, and with its contents totally consumed. Mr. L. lost his entire crop of grain and hay of the late harvest. He is a brother of Maj. SAMUEL LOHR, of Franklin township, this county.

Hungarian Grass.

Our friend Capt. PHILIP J. GRAFT, of Straban township, has placed on our table a number of very fine heads of the Hungarian Grass, a new article of culture in this region. The heads are remarkably prolific in seed. Capt. Graft is favorably impressed with the grass, and thinks it will answer an excellent purpose. He expects a large yield of seed.

☞ One of the most pleasant Pic Nics of the season came off near New Chester on Saturday last. Another was held on the banks of Plum Run, near the same place, on Saturday week. And still another at Hartzel's Grove, near Mummasburg, on the 6th.

☞ August and September are the months when sickness most prevails, and care should be taken to keep everything in a healthy condition. We have had a healthy season thus far—let us endeavor to deserve a continuance of the blessing.

☞ Make good use of time, if thou lovest eternity; yesterday cannot be recalled; to-morrow cannot be secure—to-day only is thine, which lost, is lost forever. So says somebody. "Make a note of it."

"Circulate the Documents!"

The Compiler will be furnished for the campaign at TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, paid in advance. The county canvass promises to be an interesting one, and we trust that hundreds who do not take a County Paper will avail themselves of this advantage to get The Compiler at an unprecedentedly low price. The Know Nothing Black Republican leaders and managers will, no doubt, resort to their usual game of falsehood and deception in order to carry their point, but we expect to be after them, with "a sharp stick," and to be able to expose their attempted cheats. Circulate The Compiler.

Committed.—A few days since, a young girl named Adaline M'Manus, of West Pennsborough township, was committed to jail, charged with the murder of her infant child. It will be recollected that, in May last, the dead body of a fully developed male infant was discovered in the Canodoguinet creek, near the Meeting House Springs, by a party of young men who were engaged in fishing. By reference to our paper of May 26, a full account of the finding of the body and its appearance will be found. The girl, Adaline McManus, it is strongly suspected, is the mother of the child and also its murderer, and on Friday, both she and her mother were arrested, and are now in jail to await their trial.—Carlisle Volunteer.

Gas Light on the Camp Ground.—A novel and interesting feature of the Camp Meeting of nights was the brilliant and beautiful light furnished by Col. Z. T. Windsor. It was the subject of much remark. Never before was a Camp ground lit up so handsomely by gas.—Col. Windsor, the purchasor of the patent for the State of Maryland, is entitled to much credit for the light which he has furnished of nights while the Camp continued.

Horse Stolen.—We learn that a very valuable horse belonging to Mr. Wm. H. H. Adams was stolen from the Camp Ground on Sunday night last, since which time nothing has been heard of the stolen property.—Frederick Union.

Singular Law Suit.—A singular law suit is in progress in New York. A young lady, nineteen years old, sued her guardian to compel him to reveal her parents. She has lived with him from infancy, and claims that he has property belonging to her. Recently he has refused to support her, or to deliver the property, or disclose the facts connected with her birth.

Married.

On the 16th inst., by Rev. H. Bishop, Mr. ZACHARIAH HOUDISHELL to Miss CHRISTINA SANDERS, both of Fairfield, Adams co.

On Wednesday evening last, in Littlestown, by Rev. Mr. Henry, Mr. CHARLES SEFTON, of Fairfield, to Miss BELL WHITE, of this place.

Died.

At New Oxford, on the 14th inst., Miss WILHELMINA HOPKE, aged 78 years 7 months and 28 days.

On Wednesday night last, Mrs. ELLEN FRAZER, in the 64th year of her age.

On the 10th of August, in Huntington township, Adams county, Mrs. ANNA MARIA PLANK, at the advanced age of 88 years 8 months and 22 days. Her descendants numbered 13 children, 123 grand children, and 139 great grand children.

Communicated.

Died, on the 14th inst., at his residence, in Middletown, Mr. JACOB P. PENSYL, aged near 38 years. He has left a widow and two sons, together with a large circle of friends, to mourn his untimely removal.

O, may no gloomy crime,
Pollute the rising day;
May Jesus' blood, like morning dew,
Wash all our stains away.
May we this life improve,
To mourn for errors past;
And live this short, revolving day,
As if it were our last.
To God, the Father, Son,
And Spirit, one in three;
Be glory, as it was, is now,
And shall forever be.

Communicated.

On the 19th of August, in Franklin township, Mr. JOHN BRADY, son of John Brady, Sr., aged 21 years 11 months and 3 days. "My youthful days have passed away, that like a shadow to me have been. Now I am willing to die," said he, "and hope that I will be happy forever in eternity."

Special Notices.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—The unequalled success that has attended the application of this Medicine in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchial Affections, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice; many of whom advise us of the fact under their own signature:

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

Auburn, Sept. 6, 1858.

S. W. Fowle & Co.—Sirs:—I most cheerfully add my testimony in favor of the Balsam. We have used it in our family, in Pulmonary affections, Coughs and Colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy, and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature with invariably happy results. W. D. LYNCH, M. D.

Mansfield, Tioga co., Pa., Aug. 1856.

Gentlemen:—Having used in my practice the last four years, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, with great success, I most cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthma, &c.

H. D. MARTIN, M. D.

Cape Vincent, N. Y., July 27, 1858.

Gentlemen:—After using Dr. Wistar's Balsam for a long time I can say from repeated observation that I regard it as one of the best kind of Cough medicines, and take great pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted.

W. M. WEBB, M. D.

Brownville, N. Y., July 18, 1858.

Gents:—Having sold Wistar's Balsam for two years past and having used the same myself with great success, I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering with Asthma or Consumption. A. A. GIBBS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, No. 418, Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa. Read what is said of them:

Scott, Cortland co., N. Y., March 21, 1857.

Dr. C. M. Jackson. Dear Sir:—In behalf of the afflicted, I pen a few lines to you. I have suffered and doctored myself, and know how to pity those in a like condition. Until I commenced taking your Bitters last summer, I was not able to do anything, or even to sit up any considerable length of time. Before I had taken the first bottle, I felt like a new man, and now, after having continued the use of them a short time, in the worst season of the year, I am able to labor hard every day. To say the least, I think I have received more benefit from the Bitters, than all other medicines I have taken. I have not only used your Bitters myself, but have given bottles and parts of bottles to those complaining of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and in every case, they tell me they have taken no medicine so beneficial as the Bitters.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES VON BENSCHOTER.

A VOICE FROM VIRGINIA.

Cabin Point, Surry co., Va.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in Baltimore in April, 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for the Epileptic Fits. At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about twelve years. When reaching home, I commenced with the Pills according to directions. I do not think she has had one since. My wife, though, is somewhat induced to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you will please forward me two boxes. I suppose you can forward them by mail. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully, M. P. ELLIGE.

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also a sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous diseases. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, tic-doloreux, or ordinary head ache, afflicted with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or experiencing any other pain or disability arising from the unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, motion and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those Pills, which at once calms, invigorates, and regulates the shattered nervous organization.

Sent to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24.

AN ANCIENT MONSTER.—The people of South Jersey have recently exhumed from a marl bed the skeleton of an animal, which must have been of the kangaroo species, of monstrous size. Its hind legs must have been seven feet long; the entire length of the animal, tail included, at least twenty-five feet. The head was small and its neck thin, its teeth about two feet long, and so arranged as to form the words, "Buy your clothing of SAMSON, opposite the Bank, Gettysburg."

☞ Persons wishing to change their business to a rapidly increasing country, a new settlement where hundreds are going—where the climate is mild and delightful—see adv. of the Hammonton Settlement in another column.

☞ Persons wishing to establish Manufactories in a new and thriving place where business is good, see advertisement of the Hammonton Settlement.

COMFORT FOR THE BALDHEADS.—A Paris letter writer says: "All the great bankers are bald—all the diplomatists, all the editors, all the managers of the theatres, all the officers in the army, all the senators, all the deputies, all the counsellors of state, all the magistrates. The most elegant men of Paris are bald; the writers are all bald. Baldness is becoming the sign of power, for every man who thinks hard in these days, thinks off his hair.—Hail to the Bald-Head ocracy." In this country all the hard thinkers are distinguished by wearing garments procured at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

☞ Shoe business and Factories can be carried on profitably at Hammonton. See adv. of Hammonton lands.

☞ The orchards of Bucks county, Pa., are laden with a heavier crop of apples than has been seen before for several years.

Valuable Farms

FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale, on very accommodating terms, TWO FARMS, the first situate in Straban township, Adams county, about three miles east of Gettysburg, and one mile from the Railroad, containing 110 Acres, more or less. The improvements are a STONE HOUSE, good Bank Barn, and other out-buildings. About 15 acres are in first rate Meadow; and there is running spring-water in every field which never fails. There is a large ORCHARD of choice grafted fruit, about 4 acres. About 2,700 or 2,800 bushels of Lime have been put upon the Farm, and its convenience to the Railroad renders lime very accessible. There is a due proportion of Timber.

The second FARM is situated in Cumberland township, on the Emmitsburg road, a mile and a half from Gettysburg, containing 145 Acres, more or less. The improvements are a new Frame DWELLING HOUSE, large Brick Barn and other out-buildings, a well of water at the barn, and one at the house. About 22 acres are in Meadow, with a due proportion of Timber. About 3,000 bushels of Lime have been put upon the Farm.

The above properties will be at private sale until the 19th and 20th days of September, when if not sold, the first named Farm will be offered at public sale, on the premises, on Monday, the 19th at 1 o'clock; and the second on Tuesday, the 20th, at 1 o'clock: when terms will be made known by PETER TROSTLE.

Farm for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell his FARM, situated in Franklin township, Adams county, 2 miles west of Cashtown, on the Millerstown road. The Farm contains 75 ACRES—50 acres clear. The land is in a good state of cultivation, having been limed. There are all kinds of fruit—a thriving young Orchard of choice grafted fruit: also peaches, pears and plums of the best kinds. The buildings are a one and a half story STONE HOUSE, a large new Bank Barn, a Cooper Shop, &c. The Farm is in good order, and cannot be beat for raising potatoes. I calculate on raising eight hundred bushels this year. A never-failing spring of water at the door. SAMUEL BINGAMAN.

Public Sale

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—The subscriber, Executor of the last will and testament of ANTHONY SMITH, deceased, will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Tuesday, the 20th day of September next, the following highly valuable Real Estate of said deceased, viz:

No. 1.—A FARM, situate in Mountpleasant township, Adams county, adjoining lands of Jacob E. Miller, Samuel Hoffman, Henry J. Hemler, and others, containing 138 Acres and 10 Perches, neat measure, about 40 acres of which are first rate Timberland, with a proper proportion of Meadow. The improvements are a large two-story BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, Bank Barn, Wagon Shed and Corn Crib, Carriage House, Spring House, with a never-failing spring in it, and well of excellent water near the door of the dwelling; a choice Apple Orchard, with a variety of other fruit, such as pears, peaches, cherries, plums, &c.

No. 2. A TRACT OF LAND, adjoining No. 1, containing 79 Acres and 142 Perches, neat measure,—about 30 acres of the tract being Woodland. The improvements consist of a large two-story Weatherboarded HOUSE, entirely new, Bank Barn, also new, with a well of water at the door, and some fruit.

No. 3.—A TRACT OF LAND, also adjoining No. 1, containing 19 Acres and 95 Perches,—about 8 acres of the tract being Woodland of the very best quality.

The three tracts have been well limed, and are in a high state of cultivation and under good fencing. The land is well watered, with a never-failing stream running along one line. The road leading from Hunterstown to McSherrystown separates Nos. 1 and 3, and the road from Bonnaughtown to Kohler's mill passes through Nos. 1 and 2. The neighborhood is a pleasant one, with churches, school house, stores, mills and mechanic shops, convenient. The opportunity to purchase property so desirable is rarely offered, and the attention of those wishing to invest is called to it.

Persons desiring to view the properties are requested to call on the Heirs, residing thereon. A clear title and possession will be given on the first of April next.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by

Excelsior Sky-Light Gallery,

NORTH-EAST Corner of the Diamond, (in the upper story of the Old County Building, recently purchased by Col. Samson.) Gettysburg, Pa.—The undersigned, having fitted up the above named Gallery, with the intention of locating a First Class establishment, are now prepared to furnish the best Ambrotype and Photographic Likenesses in the latest styles, by new and improved processes. Having had several years' experience in Philadelphia, they feel confident of giving entire satisfaction to all who may favor them with their patronage. They have constructed one of the best Sky-lights in the country, which, with the best Instruments and materials, cannot fail to produce, at all times, superior work. Ambrotypes, Spherreotypes, Melainotypes, and Patent Leather pictures, on the most reasonable terms, in cases or frames, of the latest patterns and best quality.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—This style of picture has become the favorite in cities, on account of its life-like appearance and perfect durability; being put up in neat gilded frames of various sizes, are more acceptable as family portraits than the smaller pictures. They have not been generally introduced until recently, in consequence of the difficulty of their production, and the necessity of long and tedious sittings, which have been overcome by F. J. Evans' new improved process, the entire right for the use of which we hold for Adams county. The time of sitting has now been reduced from minutes to a few seconds, and greater beauty and perfection given to the likeness. They possess this important advantage over the other pictures, viz: from one sitting any number of Photographs can be supplied without any further trouble to the sitter, and all as perfect as the first impression. These pictures are furnished Plain, finished in India Ink, Water or Oil Colors.

Life Size Photographs, finished in Oil, superior to oil paintings.

ENLARGED PHOTOGRAPHS.—Persons having small daguerreotypes of deceased friends, can have them enlarged by this process, and finished superior to the original, and thereby rendered more life-like and durable.

Pictures set in Lockets, Rings, &c., &c.

All pictures warranted to give satisfaction, or re-taken.

New Agricultural Settlement.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate, 25 miles southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, New Jersey.—An old estate, consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil, has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser.—A population of some fifteen hundred, from various parts of the middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre: the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer.—Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and peach orchards planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET, as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours' ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed.) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before.—The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, and such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a free ticket for six months, and a half-price ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.—In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would affect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumberance when money is paid. Route to the land: leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia, for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic county, New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth street, Philadelphia. Maps and Information cheerfully furnished.

New Boot & Shoe

ESTABLISHMENT, in the N. W. corner of the Diamond, Gettysburg, Pa.—The place to buy in order to save money!—The subscriber would most respectfully inform the citizens of Gettysburg and surrounding country, that he has opened a large Boot and Shoe Establishment, in the northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, in the rooms recently occupied by D. Wills, Esq., as a Law Office, where he has now on hand, and will continue to keep for sale, an extensive variety of work, of his own manufacture. The work is made up in the best and most durable manner, including all the newest styles, and embraces BOOTS & SHOES, Men's, Women's and Children's GAITERS, in short, every article usually to be found in a first class establishment of the kind. He has now and will continue to have employed a number of workmen, "hard to beat," to make up customer work. That he will sell CHEAP, is easily proven. Give him a call, examine his Boots, Shoes and Gaiters, and get his prices. With unexceptionable work and low rates, he hopes for and expects a fair share of the public's patronage.

Shoemakers are informed that he always keeps on hand "UPPERS," for Shoes and Gaiters, ready for bottoming, which he disposes of on pleasing terms, JOHN BALLWEG.

Dr. M'Lane's

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE & LIVER PILLS.—We beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to DR. CHAS. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS. We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz: The VERMIFUGE, for expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms. The LIVER PILLS, for the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of FEVER AND AGUE, preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the Proprietors, FLEMING BROTHERS, PITTSBURG, PA., to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last 20 years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest materials, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROTHERS,
Pittsburg, Pa.

P. S.—Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail post paid, to any part of the United States, one Box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

For sale by A. D. Buehler, Agent, Gettysburg, and by dealers generally throughout the county.

Elastic Cement

ROOFING.—The subscribers are prepared to contract and put on at the shortest notice, W. E. Child & Co.'s PATENT FIRE AND WATER PROOF ELASTIC CEMENT ROOFING.

It is perfectly Fire and Water proof, and in point of durability is equal, if not superior, to any Metalic Roofing. It can be put on over tin, tar, iron, or shingle roofs, however flat or steep they may be.

In point of resisting the elements of fire and water, nothing has yet been discovered equal to the Elastic Cement.

Those who have used it, have testified that it is the very perfection of Roofing, and that there is no further room for improvement. No one will now think of putting on shingles, when this Cement can be had for much less money and will outwear four shingle roofs. This Roofing is warranted as represented.

The Elastic Cement is the cheapest and best protection from decay for wood exposed to the weather or dampness of the ground. It is also the best paint for iron, effectually preventing rust; and wherever applied perfectly excludes dampness.

The subscribers have this Cement for sale, in quantities to suit. For further information, apply to P. J. & C. M. TATE,
Eagle Hotel, Gettysburg, Pa.

In all ACUTE DISEASES, such as Fevers, Inflammations, Diarrheas, Dysentery, Croup, Rheumatism, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas—the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened and rendered less dangerous. Even should a physician afterwards have to be called, he will take the case at decided advantage from the previous treatment.

COUGHS AND COLDS, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, bronchitis, and consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all CHRONIC DISEASES, such as Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Piles, Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headache, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles, or Catarrh, Headache, or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

Removal.

ALEXANDER FRAZER, Clock and Watchmaker, has removed his shop to the room on the West side of the Public Square, lately occupied by David A. Buehler, Esq., as a Law Office, where he will always be happy to attend to the calls of customers. Thankful for past favors, he hopes, by strict attention to business, and a desire to please, to merit and receive the patronage of the public.

"HIAWATHIAN."

GO to Tipton's—go to Tipton's—
Go to Tipton's in the corner—
In the corner in the Diamond—
In the Diamond near McClellan's,
If you want your hair dressed finely—
If you want your face shaved smoothly.
Bachelors who never knew it—
Tip's the fellow that can do it—
Do it in the latest fashion—
Do it quick and do it neatly,
And improve your fine looks greatly,
Make you look so young and sprightly,
Make you feel more young and brightly,
Make you feel like going nightly
To call upon some pretty damsel
Who before would not look at you,
At you as you passed her daily,
Daily on the public street.
And young men who wear moustaches,
Who want some one to sew patches—
Patches where your breeches tear—
Tip's the boy to make up matches—
Matches with some lady fair.
Then repair to Tipton's shop,
Dandy, Fogy, Flirt and Fop.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; 5 Boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our Remedies are for sale by

Sold by A. D. Buehler, Gettysburg—T. J. Cooper, near Cashtown—Paxton & Co. Fairfield—and all Druggists.

Howard Association,

PHILADELPHIA.—A Benevolent Institution established by Special Endowment for the relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases.

In times of Epidemics, it is the object of this Institution to establish Hospitals, to provide Nurses, Physicians, Clothing, Food, Medicines, &c., for the sick and destitute, to take charge of the orphans of deceased parents, and to minister in every possible way to the relief of the afflicted and the health of the public at large. It is the duty of the Directors, at such times, to visit personally the infected districts, and to provide and execute means of relief. Numerous physicians, not acting members of the Association, usually enrol their names on its books, subject to be called upon to attend its hospitals, free of charge.

In the absence of Epidemics, the Directors have authorized the Consulting Surgeon to give advice and medical aid to persons suffering under CHRONIC DISEASES of a virulent character, arising from abuse of the physical powers, mal-treatment, the effects of drugs, &c.

Various REPORTS and TRACTS on the nature and treatment of Chronic Diseases, by the Consulting Surgeon, have been published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent FREE OF CHARGE to the afflicted.

What Everybody Wants.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR: containing in plain language, free from medical terms, the CAUSES, SYMPTOMS and CURE of disease in every form, with important RULES FOR PRESERVING THE HEALTH, and Directions for the Sick Chamber, and the Proper Treatment of the Sick.—This book is written in a plain, easy and familiar style, adapted expressly to family and individual use. It advocates no particular theory of medicine, but draws alike from the Flowers of the Field, the Plants of the Garden, or the Minerals of Earth, for such Remedies as have proved the most simple, safe, and effectual believing that wherever disease has found a foothold, there the Giver of all Good has, in some form, mercifully placed a Specific. Neither does it profess to supercede the physician, but only to avoid the necessity and expense of calling him in except in dangerous cases. It is in fact a physician itself, always at hand and ready to serve you, while its simple receipt may soon save you many times its cost.

It contains 308 pages, in a clear and open type, is illustrated by appropriate engravings, and will be forwarded to your address, postage paid and neatly bound, on receipts of the price $1 00. Everybody should have it.

BEAUTY, WIT AND GOLD.

In a bower a widow dwelt,
At her feet three lover's knelt;
Each ador'd the widow much,
Each essay'd her heart to touch;
One had wit, and one had gold,
One was cast in beauty's mould;
Guess which was it won the prize,
Tongue, or purse, or handsome eyes?

First began the handsome man,
Peeping proudly o'er her fan,
Red his lips and white his skin,
Could such beauty fail to win?
Then stepped forth the man of gold,
Cash he counted, coin he told;
Wealth the burden of his tale,
Could such golden projects fail?

Then the man of wit and sense,
Woo'd her with his eloquence;
Now she heard him with a sigh,
Then she blush'd scarce knowing why;
Then she smil'd to hear him speak,
Then a tear was on her cheek;
Beauty vanish, gold depart,
Wit had won the widow's heart.

Miscellaneous.

Pretty Women.

A pretty women is one of the "institutions" of the country—an angel in dry goods and glory. She makes sunshine, blue sky, and happiness wherever she goes. Her path is one of delicious roses, perfumes, and beauty. She is a poem, written in rare curls and choice calico, and good principles. Her words float round the ear like music, birds of paradise, or the chime of Sabbath bells.—Without her, society would lose her truest attractions; the church its firmest reliance, and young men the very best of comforts and company. Her influence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthen the weak, raise the lowly, flannel shirt the heathen, and strengthen the faint heart. Wherever you find the virtuous woman, you also find fireside boquets, clean clothes, order, good living, gentle hearts, music, light, and model institutions generally. She is the flower of humanity, a very Venus in dimity, and her inspiration is the breath of heaven.

How to Enjoy a Kiss.

Some chap who resides within a hundred miles of this place, and who thinks he knows a thing or two, thus discourses about kissing:

"Of course you must be taller than the lady you intend to kiss. Take her right hand in yours, and draw her gently toward you. Pass your left arm over her right shoulder, diagonally down across her back under her left arm, and press her to your bosom, at the same time she will throw her head back and you have nothing to do but to lean a little forward and press your lips to hers, and the thing is done. Don't make a noise over it, as if you were firing percussion caps or trying the water guages of a steam engine, nor pounce down upon it like a hungry hawk upon an innocent dove, but gently fold the damsel in your arms, without deranging the economy of tippit or ruffles, and by a pressure upon her mouth revel in the sweet blissfulness of your situation without smacking your lips on it as you would over a roast duck."

A Curious Love Story.

Says the Easton (Pa.) Argus: "First Love the world generally admits, is always the most sincere. An instance illustrating the truth of this recently came to our knowledge, which is worth repeating. Forty-five years ago, a young man named Peterson, served his apprenticeship at the printing business, in the office of Christian Jacob Hunter, of this place. Whilst in his employ he became interested in a young lady of our town, and proposed marriage. He was accepted, but the mother of the girl opposed the match and broke it off. After finishing his trade, he went to one of the Southern States, and married a sister of Hon. John M. Clayton, former United States Senator from Delaware. After having two children, his wife died and left him a widower. He then emigrated to Canada West, where he became quite a wealthy and prominent man, and filled the office of County Recorder, a life appointment, at Guelph. There he married the second time, and became a second time a widower. Last summer he passed through Easton on his road to Wilmington, where his daughter was at school; and whilst here made inquiry after the sweetheart of his younger days. Ascertaining that she was a widow, and residing in Philadelphia, he called upon her, renewed his acquaintance, and after more than forty years separation, again proposed marriage to her, and was accepted. He was to have come on here this very week to be married, but was taken suddenly sick, about ten days ago, with an attack of pleurisy, and died after a short illness. A few days before his death, he wrote to the object of his first affections, telling her that he was doubtless on his dying bed and never expected to see her again on earth.

"I've Got Orders Not to Go."—"I've got orders, positive orders not to go there; orders that I dare not disobey," said a youth, who was being invited to a smoking and gambling saloon.

"Come, don't be so womanish—come along like a man," shouted the youths.

"What special orders have you got? come, show 'em to us, if you can; show us your orders."

John took out a wallet from his pocket, and pulling out a neatly folded paper, "it's here," he said, unfolding the paper, and showing it to the boys. They looked, and one of them read aloud: "Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not into the path of wicked men. Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away."

"Now," said John, "you see my orders forbid me going with you. They are God's orders, and by his help I don't mean to break them."

Valuable Secret.—The unpleasant odor produced by perspiration is frequently the source of vexation to gentlemen and ladies, some of whom are as subject to its excess as their fellow mortals of another color. Nothing is simpler than the removal of this odor at much less expense and much more effectually than by the application of such costly unguents and perfumes as are in use. It is only necessary to procure some of the compound spirits of ammonia, and place two table-spoonfuls in a basin of water. Washing the face, hands and arms with this leaves the skin as clean, fresh and sweet as one could wish. The wash being perfectly harmless, and very cheap, we recommend it on the authority of one of our most experienced physicians to our readers.—Ex.

A Short Clergyman.

A few miles below Poughkeepsie, N. Y., there now lives, and has lived for several years past, a worthy clergyman, a man, however, very short in stature. Upon a certain Sunday, about eighteen years ago, this clergyman was invited by the pastor of a church to fill his pulpit for the day. The invitation was excepted, and Sunday morning saw Mr. ——— in the pulpit. Now it happened that the pulpit was a very high one, and accordingly nearly hid the poor, little clergyman from view. However, the congregation, out of respect, managed to keep their countenances, and with over pious faces seemed religiously anxious for the text. They were not obliged to wait long, for a nose and two little eyes suddenly appeared over the top of the pulpit, and a squeaking, tremulous voice proclaimed in nasal tones the text:

"Be of good cheer; it is I, be not afraid!"

A general roar of laughter followed the announcement—the clergyman became confused, and turned all sorts of colors. Many in the general uproar left the church, and it was a long time before the minister was enabled to proceed with the sermon so abruptly broken off.

Afternoon came, and the little man, standing on a footstool, had a fair view of his audience. The text was announced in due form:

"A little while ye shall see me, and again a little while and ye shall not see me."

In the course of his sermon he repeated his text with great earnestness, and stepping back, lost his elevated footing and disappeared from his hearers. The effect may be more readily imagined than described.

A Good Story.

An anecdote, worth laughing over, is told of a man who had an infirmity, as well as an appetite for fish. He was anxious to keep up his character for honesty, even while enjoying his favorite meal; and while making a bill with his merchant, as the story goes, and when his back was turned, the honest buyer slipped a codfish up under his coat tail. But the garment was too short to cover up the theft, and the merchant perceived it.

"Now," said the customer, anxious to improve all opportunities to call attention to his virtues, "Mr. Merchant, I have traded with you a great deal, and paid you honestly and promptly, haven't I?"

"O, yes," said the merchant, "I make no complaint."

"Well," said the customer, "I always insisted that honesty is the best policy, and the best rule to live and die by."

"That's so," returned the merchant.

And the customer turned to depart.

"Hold on, friend," cried the merchant, "speaking of honesty, I have a bit of advice to give you. Whenever you come to trade again, you had better wear a longer coat, or steal a shorter codfish."

Where the Laugh Came In.

Bunce's and Sizer's farms adjoined each other. Sizer had an unruly sheep which was in the habit of getting into Bunce's field. Bunce expostulated with Sizer several times, and then told him if he did not keep his sheep at home, he would fix him so that he wouldn't jump any more fences. But Bunce soon found the sheep back again; so he caught him, and with a knife severed the cuticle or skin just beyond the gambrel joint, and between the main cord and bone, then thrust the other hind leg through the aperture, and put the sheep through the fence, who went off hobbling on three legs. Sizer soon after discovered the sad plight his sheep was in, and he knew very well who was the cause of it, but he concluded to take things coolly, and await some suitable opportunity to revenge himself. Presently Bunce's old sow broke into Sizer's field, when he caught her, and with a sharp knife cut her mouth almost from ear to ear, and turned her back. When Bunce discovered this, he went to Sizer in a great rage, and demanded of him what he did that for. Sizer said, "upon my word, neighbor Bunce, I didn't do any such thing. Your old sow split her mouth laughing at my sheep through the fence!"—Syracuse Standard.

Annecdote of Henry Clay.

The great statesman and orator was traveling somewhere "out West," and put up for the night at a country tavern. "Mine host," in looking over the register, discovered the name of Henry Clay. There was but one "Clay." Could it be possible that he had this distinguished man under his roof? He was astounded, delighted. Next morning as soon as the "great man" appeared, the amiable boniface bustled forward and made his rude bow.

"Mr. Clay, I believe, sir," said he.

"That is my name," said the gentleman, in his affable tone.

"Mr. Clay, the Congressman?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, sir, I've heard of you, and I thought I'd just ask if you would'nt give me and my old woman a little speech before you go?"

☞An old friend, a distinguished judge and ex-war minister, resident in Pennsylvania, tells a good story of a Dutch neighbor of his who had the gout, and was greatly puzzled to know how he came by it.

"What is the matter with you, my friend?" inquired the judge, who had called in to see his sick neighbor.

"Vell, I don't know, chudge; dey say it ish de cout; but vy should I have de cout?—I lives plain; I don't eat too much nor drink too much; vy should I have the cout?

"Perhaps," suggested the judge, "it is hereditary."

"Vell," replied the invalid, with the look of a man who has been suddenly enlightened on a difficult subject—"Vell, I guess it ish hereditary—I remember my wife's uncle had de cout."

☞The Missouri Republican tells a story of a young man who had no money, but who wanted to visit Connecticut, and who packed himself into a box and had himself called for by the expressman. The discrepancy between the large size of the box and its light weight caused suspicions to be engendered in the driver's mind, and an investigation disclosed the young man, already nearly out of breath and bathed in tears.

St. Louis and Chicago.—A correspondent of the Laconia, N. H., Democrat, writing from St. Louis, says:

In its general appearance St. Louis resembles Boston. Unlike Boston the retail stores, rum and beer shops are all open on Sunday. On the principal streets every third door is a drinking saloon. At Chicago every other door is a rum hole and the one next to it a lager beer shop.

☞The "Litery Siety" is now in full blast. Question for next week:—"If a man build, a corncrib, does that give him the privilege to crib corn?"

☞John asked Julia if she would have him. "No," said she, "I will not have you, but you may have me."

Old Hoss, You're Too Late.

Early this morning there were added to our company of travelers a pair who looked like runaways; the gentleman was a tall, raw-boned specimen of the "half horse, half aligator" class, and the lady a fair match for him. Among the passengers from Napoleon is a solemn looking gentleman, who has all along been taken for a preacher. About nine o'clock last night I was conversing with the "reverend" gentleman, when a young man stepped up, and addressing him, remarked, "We are going to have a wedding, and would like you to officiate." "All right, sir," he replied, laughingly, and we stepped into the ladies' cabin, where, sure enough, the couple stood waiting. There had been some kissing games, and several mock marriages gone through with during the evening, and I supposed this was merely a continuation of the sport; and so thought the "preacher" who, I could see, had a good deal of humor in him, and was inclined to promote general good feeling and merriment. The couple stood up before him, (a good deal more solemn than was necessary in a mock marriage, I thought,) and the "preacher" asked the necessary questions, and then proceeding in the usual way, announced them "husband and wife." There was a good deal of fun afterward, and when it was over, I left the cabin—and so did the "preacher," who remarked to me that he liked to see the young folks enjoying themselves, and took a great deal of pleasure in contributing to their fun; but he did not understand why they should select him to act the preacher.

Just then some one called me aside, and the old gentleman stepped into his stateroom, which was next to mine. When I returned, the door stood open, and the "preacher" stood just inside with his coat and vest off, and one boot in his hand, talking with the gentleman who played the "attendant," and who as I came up, remarked: "Well, if that is the case, it is a good joke, for they are in dead earnest and have retired to the same stateroom." The old gentleman raised both hands as he exclaimed:—"Good heavens!—you don't tell me so!" and rushing, just as he was, boot in hand, to the stateroom indicated, commenced an assault on the door as if he would batter it down, exclaiming at each lick: "For Heaven's sake! I ain't a preacher!" The whole cabin was aroused, every stateroom door flying open with a slam, when the door opened, and the "Arkansas traveler," poking out his head, coolly remarked: "Old hoss—you're rather too late!"

A Nigger Story.

Two darkies had bought a mess of pork in partnership, but Sam having no place to put his portion in, consented to entrust the whole to Julius' keeping.

The next morning they met, when Sam says—

"Good mornin', Julius, anything happen strange or mysterious down in your wicinity, lately?"

"Yaas, Sam, most a strange thing happen at my house yesterlast night. All mystery, all mystery to me."

"Ah, Julius, what was dat?"

"Well, Sam, I tole you now. Dis mornin' I went down into de seller for to get a piece of hog for dis darkey's breakfast, and I put my hand down in de brine an felt all round, but no pork dere—all gone. Couldn't tell what bewent with it, so I turned up de bar'l, and Sam, true as preachin', de rats had eat a hole clar froo de bottom, of de bar'l—and dragged de pork all out!"

Sam was petrified with astonishment, but presently said—

"Why didn't de brine run out ob de same hole?"

"Ah, Sam, dat's de mystery—dat's de mystery."

Domestic.—Sickles tragedies are quite common just now. An affecting scene of this kind took place not a thousand miles from La Crescent, in which the following dialogue occurred:

Indignant husband to his wife's lover—"Scoundrel! you have dishonored me and must die." Makes a rush at him with a dagger.

Wife seizes the dagger—"Hold, wretched and imprudent man! What would you do? Would you murder your children's father."—News.

Exchanging Legs.—A gentleman's leg was amputated on Wednesday, at the Massachusetts Hospital, in order that he might have an artificial leg applied. The amputated leg was four inches shorter than its fellow, but perfectly sound. The patient has walked for twenty seven years upon a crutch, but prefers to try the other style of "going ahead," even if it is by means of a wooden propeller.

The Rarey Secret.—In the "Gentleman's Farriery," by Bartlett, (sixth edition) published in 1762, page 293, is the following:—"The method proposed by Dr. Bracken is to tie up one of his fore feet close, and to fasten a cord or small rope around the other fetlock, bringing the end of it over the horse's shoulders; then let him be hit or kicked with your foot behind that knee, at the same time pulling his nose down strongly to the manger, will bring him upon his knees, where he should be held till he is tired, which cannot be long; but if he does not lie down soon let him be thrust sideways against his quarters, to throw him over; by forcing him down several times in this way you may teach him to lie down at the same words you first used for that purpose." Rarey's system is exactly the same.

How to Speak in Public.—When you mount the stand be puzzled where to put your hat. Look around as though you were quite cool and collected, and suddenly put your hat upon the floor. Turn to the audience, pass your fingers through your hair, and say, "Fellow-citizens," extend your right hand, put your left on your vest, on whichever side in your private opinion your heart lies, swell out your chest as though all the goddesses of liberty in the world had left their respective countries, and had taken board and lodging in our expansive bosom, and were now struggling to find their way out. Repress their generous efforts for a moment, and then burst right out, leading off with a brief eulogy on the American eagle. The effect will be tremendous.

☞When the celebrated Dunning, afterwards Lord Ashburton, was "stating law" to a jury in court, Lord Mansfield interrupted him by saying, "If that be law, I'll go home and burn my books." "My lord," replied Dunning, "you had better go home and read them."

The Extreme of Laziness.—"How is it," said a man to his neighbor, "that Parson W——, the laziest man living, writes these interminably long sermons?"

"Why," says the other, "he probably gets to writing and is too lazy to stop."

What Made West a Painter.—The celebrated Benjamin West related that his mother once kissed him eagerly when he showed her a likeness he had sketched of his baby sister; and he adds, "That kiss made me a painter."

Funeral of a Siberian Chief.

At a late meeting of the London Royal Historical Society, Mr. Atkinson, whose interesting travels among the Kirgiz, and other nomades of Siberia, have recently been published, delivered to the meeting "A Narrative of some of his Adventures among those rarely visited tribes," giving a graphic picture of their habits and manners. The following is an account of the funeral of a chief named Darma Syrym, who died near Norzaisan, when Mr. Atkinson was on a visit to the tribe:

"So soon as the chief was dead, messengers were sent off to invite the head men residing within a hundred miles, who all immediately repaired to the place. The body of the chief was laid out in his best attire, his chair of state was placed at his head, his saddle, arms, and clothing were hung around, and silk curtains were suspended from the roof of his yourt. His wives and daughters, with the females of the tribe knelt around, chanting the funeral dirge, in which the voices of men occasionally joined. While this way going on, the funeral feast was preparing. Ten horses and a hundred sheep were slaughtered, and the flesh was thrown into numerous cauldrons, boiling over fires kindled in the ground, which were constantly kept stirred by men stripped to the waist. When a sufficient quantity of food was dressed, the feast began. The guests sat in a circle round the meat, the chiefs nearest the centre; those of next degree next them; and the woman outside.

The feast lasted seven days, during which 2,000 persons partook heartily in the consumption of mutton and horse-flesh. On the eighth day the body was conveyed to the tomb on a camel; the camel also carried the chair of state. The two favorite horses of the chief followed; after which went the whole tribe, singing the funeral hymn. On reaching the place of burial, the body was deposited in the grave, and the horses were forthwith slain, and placed beside the body of their master. When the grave was filled up, all returned to the encampment to continue the funeral feast which was furnished by 100 horses and 1,000 sheep, slaughtered of the occasion. The festival continued for several days after the burial, the chiefs and the family of the deceased chanting his praises every day, until all the guests had gradually departed for their homes. The feast was kept up by the tribe for a considerable time afterwards; and the chanting was repeated every day, at sunrise and sunset, for a whole year. Mr. Atkinson dwelt on the very impressive nature of the ceremony—the wailing music of the funeral chants—the sorrow, apparent at least, exhibited by an immense concourse of mourners mingled with the almost savage accompaniment of the feast; all this, in the midst of a desert which seemed of unlimited extent, produced an effect which an Englishman finds it difficult to picture to himself."

The Democratic Party.

A few months ago it was confidingly proclaimed (says the Philadelphia Argus) by the opponents to Democracy in this State, that our party was hopelessly divided, and that never again could harmony be restored to its ranks. Because we had differed on the Kansas question it was argued that we must differ on all questions and for all coming time. But a very brief period has dispelled this erroneous idea, and with rare exception—we may as well particularize, and say, with three exceptions—every paper claiming to be Democratic gives a cordial support to the nominees and principles of that party. In a late number of the Perry county Democrat we find the following in regard to the feeling of that section. The Democrat was, it will be remembered, opposed to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution:

"During the present week we have conversed with a very large number of Democrats, from all parts of the county, and are much gratified to find that the very best feeling pervades the Democratic party of this county. All are anxious, and we believe, sincerely, to see a harmonious Convention and a good ticket nominated. If the designs of the Opposition to engender strife among ourselves, continue to be regarded and understood as they now are by Democrats, we will have no trouble in our camp, and the nominees of the party will be triumphantly elected."

Where are They Going?

There need be no longer any doubt in the public mind as to the course the adherents of Governor Packer intend to pursue at the approaching general election. It has been publicly announced, in two quarters, most likely to be well informed on the subject; first, by J. S. Richards, Esq., at the K. N. Republican Meeting in this city, on Monday last; who said it was understood that the friends of Governor Packer (or the Schwartz men) would vote the Opposition State Ticket, and that they, (the Opposition) would vote the County Ticket nominated by the former: and secondly, by Mr. John W. Forney, the leader of the Packer wing, who, in his speech delivered here on Wednesday, declared that they (the so called "State Rights Democracy") would not vote the Democratic State Ticket. In confirmation of these statements, the State Journal, a new Opposition paper, just started in Philadelphia, makes the following announcement:

"It is generally understood here that the friends of Governor Packer over the State will vote for the Opposition candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General; consequently these gentlemen, who are both well known and popular, will be elected by an unprecedented majority. The Buchanan nominees for these offices will be so badly beaten, that they will never attempt to inquire what hit them."

It is therefore no longer a matter of doubt where we shall have to look for Gov. Packer and his friends hereafter. They publicly avow their alliance with the Opposition, and their desertion of all but the name of Democracy, which they still adhere to, as a cover for their treachery.—Reading Gazette.

What Good has it Done?—The cost of the Utah army, up to the end of the second quarter, was over $5,000,000, and add to this the estimate for the fiscal year ending June 1st, and the expense of that army for one year will range between seven and nine millions.—Manchester American.

The expense to the Government, of the Utah army, is a thing to be deplored, but it results from the necessity of sending it; and in reply to the question of the American—"What good has it done?"—we answer that it has done what was expected of it and what it was sent out there to do. It has subdued a rebellion and reduced a rebellious people to subordination to the laws and subjection to the civil power. That it is still necessary to continue the army in Utah, is evident from the latest reports. That it may be necessary even to send reinforcements, is possible. But it ill-becomes a paper or a party that has denounced Mormonism as a "relic of barbarism," to find fault with the result of this necessary, and thus far, successful expedition.—N. H. Patriot.

The Pennsylvania Campaign of '59.

The political campaign of 1859, in Pennsylvania, may now be said to be fully opened. The two parties have held their Conventions and nominated their candidates.

There are important considerations involved in this contest, which cannot be overlooked and disregarded by any good citizen.—Pennsylvania has great interests that are to be entrusted to the State officers who shall be elected in October next; and every voter and tax-payer should aim to secure the success of those men in whose care these interests would be most certainly safe. That the Democratic nominees are in all respects worthy of the posts for which they are named, none who know them can doubt. They, both, are tried men. John Rowe has filled the office of Surveyor General, since May, '57, and not a word of censure or complaint against him has been heard from any quarter. It is sufficient, and also due to say of him, that so satisfactory has been his official career, that he was re-nominated by a unanimous vote—a high compliment to a worthy man. Richardson L. Wright is not a new and unknown man. He has served several years in the Legislature, first in the House and then in the Senate, and he has served honestly, with an eye single to the interests and welfare of the Commonwealth and his constituents. Mr. Wright's standing as a public man, shown by his record, has been, and is, to be right and to do right; to oppose wrong and to defeat wrong. While his entire course, or every act, may not be free from what some may regard as error of judgment, it nevertheless distinctly marks him as an honest man, just the kind of man for the office of Auditor General, which has become the most important office in the State so far as the tax-payers are concerned. It holds the key which unlocks the State Treasury; its head has to pass upon all claims and accounts against the States; and accordingly as the office is in charge of an honest and firm man, or one of an accommodating integrity which has not the nerve to say no, will the Commonwealth be protected or plundered through the instrumentality of the incumbent. Recent legislation has added greatly to its importance, by transferring thereto, the business of the Canal Board, for it will probably be years before claims against the State, arising out of the construction, management, &c., of the public works, will cease to be presented. The office is now most faithfully filled by Jacob Fry. He has proved himself a reliable and trusty guardian of the door of the Treasury. No one of his predecessors ever performed its duties more satisfactorily, and it is highly important that he shall be succeeded by one of like honesty and firmness. This Mr. Wright is known to be.

Of the Opposition candidates, Cochran and Keim, it cannot be regarded as an unjust disparagement to say that in no respect have they superior claims or qualifications, and that there is nothing in their history to recommend them specially to the confidence of the people in preference to their Democratic competitors. They are certainly not of equal experience, and neither of them has reputation for, or given evidence of, that peculiar trait of character which points out a man as one preeminently fitted for trusts requiring in their proper fulfilment the most rigid honesty and unyielding firmness in behalf of the State, and against all efforts to defraud or wrong her.

Democrats can have no hesitation as to their course in this contest. Regard for the State interests and duty to their Party, happily unite in recommending, aye, in dictating, a cordial, earnest and active support of Richardson L. Wright and John Rowe, for Auditor-General and Surveyor-General. There is nothing in the past or present, to warrant or excuse a contrary line of action, on the part of any who profess the name of Democrat, or who desire to continue in fellowship with the party. And if we look to the future, the considerations demanding present union and concert of action in support of these nominees, cannot be honorably disregarded. The contest of '59 is but preliminary to that of '60, which will decide whether Pennsylvania is to be an Abolition or a Democratic State; and in view of that issue and the importance of its right decision, all past differences of opinion among the Democracy, (differences now of little or no consequence, and a year hence, sure to be buried in oblivion,) are utterly insignificant and unworthy of a moment's attention from any reflecting, right-thinking Democrat. The National Convention, the High Court of the party, composed of representatives from all the States and uninfluenced by section or faction, will then have acted, and, as in '52 and '56, the Democrats—all Democrats—North and South, East and West, will stand as a band of brothers, inspired by the patriotism of their fathers, upon the common platform of the Constitution and the Union, in support of the regular nominees of the party, and in opposition to sectional Abolitionism in whatever shape or guise of "People"-ism, "American-Republican"-ism or "Opposition"-ism it may present itself. The Democracy of Pennsylvania have an important, perhaps a decisive part to act in that great national struggle. Therefore it becomes them to prepare to acquit themselves creditably and successfully then, by acting now with that union and energy which will bring success in October next.

And why, with such candidates as Wright and Rowe, shall the Democracy of Pennsylvania not be triumphant? We know of no reason, in the past, the present, or the future, that should restrain any Democrat from laboring for such a result. Lecomptonism and Anti-Lecomptonism are gone, never to return again. Shades of differences of opinion on abstract questions of Constitutional power in the General Government and in the Territories—questions which belong to and will at last have to be determined by the Courts, cannot and will not be permitted to sunder and disorganize Pennsylvania Democrats.—Disappointed and desperate men whose selfish purposes have not been realized, and who therefore would ruin because they cannot rule, may, regardless of truth, principle and consistency, strive to sow the seeds of dissatisfaction, and thus give "aid and comfort to the enemy;" but it is gratifying to know that such are understood and properly appreciated by the honest and patriotic masses in all parts of the Commonwealth, and that their influence for evil is but little if any greater than that of open and undisguised Abolitionists, in whose behalf and for whose benefit, they speak, write, publish and labor.

From every part of the State, our information is of the most encouraging character.—The Democratic journals of the State which, three months ago, were more or less discontented, are now a unit in support of the State ticket, and everywhere we have the most cheering indications that the Democratic voters are moved by the same spirit, and actuated by a determination to stand unfalteringly by the candidates and organization of the party, and to make an earnest and united effort to redeem the Old Keystone from the disgrace of the Abolition triumph of '58.—Pennsylvanian.

☞Dr. Steane, in his reminiscences of a visit to Sweden, describes the mode of saying grace. The company stand round the table, and at some considerable distance from it—the gentlemen, for the most part, if not always, with their hands clasped and held on their breasts. Profound silence ensues perhaps for a minute, or it may be two, when the ladies drop a courtesy and the gentlemen make a bow, and then the company takes their seats. After dinner there is sometimes an addition, one of the party striking up a verse of some well-known hymn, when all join in singing it.

McClure's Libel Suit.

Our readers will be surprised to learn that after all McClure's bluster—all the sympathy manufactured for injured innocence—all the paid for newspaper puffs—all the certificates of good character, and all the whining, belching and bleating, over the terrible mountain of libels, the said mountain labored and brought forth a mouse and a half—the caudel extremity of the critter being cut off 'smack smoove' in order to enable it to turn an acute angle without damage. What will all his toadies, and hired scribblers, say to this after expending so much sympathy on him, and pronouncing him such a badly libelled man? It seems he does not consider himself so badly libelled as they would represent. But, then, they are presumed to know more about the matter than he does himself, and if they should stretch a figure or so in his behalf, the means justify the end and their consciences are quieted. After all the froth and fury McClure does not venture to go into Court and prosecute on more than one and a part of another, of these "suspicions." He carefully, cautiously and prudently selected the one in which he is "suspected" for being after some of the pickings in a certain Divorce Bill, and the part of another in which he is "suspected" for loafing about the Executive Anti-Chamber to the disgust of Gov. Pollock. In this "suspicion" he stops short at a comma, and cuts off that portion wherein he is suspected of being pecuniarily interested in the signing of certain Acts of Assembly! What a cautious man! Or was it the stern necessity of the case that narrowed him down to this small point?

As it is McClure's object to manufacture political capital out of these suits, we will here give a true statement of their progress, so far, in order to counteract the falsehoods he will be required to invent to cover his inglorious prosecution. On Tuesday afternoon, the 9th inst., these indictments were sent in to the Grand Jury and returned the same evening. On the next morning, before the charges could be examined, or a witness subpœnaed, McClure had the case called up for trial. It was well understood in court that this was all done for effect, and that the anxiety to go to trial was all bosh. The Counsel for the Defendants desired time to examine the Indictments, and the Stevenson Will Case, which had previously been fixed for trial on Wednesday, was then proceeded with. The Will case lasted until Thursday evening. The libel case was then called again and defendants' Counsel said they were about to file a motion to quash the indictments for informality, and that they would most likely ask for a continuance. On Friday Judge Kimmell was sick and there was no court held. On Saturday the court met and the Judge not feeling able to sit the jury was discharged, and the business continued until Monday, 15th inst. On Monday the defendants appeared in Court and entered into their own recognizance, in one hundred dollars, to appear at the October Term.

All the political capital McClure has thus far manufactured out of his Libel suit would not elect him Dog pelter, and before he is through with them his character will be exhibited in its true light, that of being one of the most corrupt politicians Pennsylvania ever had.

☞A negro being examined, was asked if his master was a Christian. "No, sir, he's a member of Congress," was the reply.

News, etc.

The result of the recent Southern elections demonstrates beyond all controversy that the Opposition cannot carry a single Southern State in 1860. Great efforts were made to carry Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, but the result in those States, while showing a gain of Opposition members of Congress, from local causes, at the same time indicates a fixed and immovable Democratic popular majority.

The Democratic State Ticket appears to be gaining ground daily. A more unexceptionable ticket has never been placed before the people of Pennsylvania, and as a consequence it must command the admiration and support of the people of the State.

John Hickman, in a recent speech at West Chester, said that he "would sooner vote for two good negroes than Wright and Rowe." He belongs to the Forney-eaters.

A bull—probably of the Slaymaker breed—attempted to butt a train of cars off the Allegheny Valley Road, one day last week, and was cut up into sausage meat for his temerity.

In the Constitution formed by the late Kansas Constitutional Convention, women are allowed to vote on school matters. The same privilege is granted them, we believe, in Canada and Louisiana.

The Webster Times states that while Mr. Joseph Davis, of Douglas, Mass., was hiving a swarm of bees, on Monday last, his little son was stung near the right eye, which was badly swollen in spite of the usual remedies, so as to destroy the use of the eye.

The Petersburg (Va.) Express says that a showman pitched his tent in that town, Thursday, and absorbed some ten cent pieces in showing a zebra, which proved to be a mule painted. Under threats of lynch law, the zebra man left, protesting, however, that he had been deceived in the purchase.

Boston, August 14.—The great annual Wesleyan Camp Meeting at the Vineyard was attended to-day by about 20,000 persons. Impressive discourses were delivered by different clergymen. The weather was delightful, and perfect order was maintained throughout the day.

A sanguinary battle occurred between the Sioux and Arapahoes on the 22nd of July, resulting in the loss of 28 of the former and 16 of the latter. Another battle was expected, which it was thought would result in the extermination of the weaker party.

At a meeting of the "American party" of Camden, (N. J.) the Hon. Millard Fillmore was nominated as a candidate for the Presidency in 1860.

The story of a woman in Ohio having eight children at one birth was, as we supposed, unfounded.

It is said that there are more visitors at Saratoga now than ever before at one time.

Hon. Daniel E. Sickles is said to have bought a farm near Schnectady, N. Y., and intends to become a "tiller of the soil."

A contemporary asks, "will whiskey explode?" Can't say, really; but those who drink enough of it are pretty certain to "get on a bust."

The Height of Nonsense.—Attempting to protect two pair of hoops from the rain with a single umbrella. It can't be did!

The Julian aqueduct of Rome is two miles longer than the Croton aqueduct of New York, but the Croton carries more water than all the seven aqueducts of Rome put together, and more than any other aqueduct in the world, and is longer than any other, excepting the Julian.

Skies Bright!

We had opportunities of conversing with Democrats from all parts of the county last week, during the holding of the August term of Court, and find that in all quarters the Democratic ticket is received with a satisfaction and an endorsement almost unprecedented in its unanimity. This is as it should always be, and is the reliable harbinger of success.

Democrats, close ranks! Watch the enemy—observe their manœuvres—and thwart them at every point!

☞The York Gazette pronounces the Democratic ticket of this county an excellent one, (commendation it is well worthy of,) and remarks:

"We expect to hear a good result from Adams this fall, and we feel satisfied that the sterling Democracy of that county will do their whole duty."

All right! You shall not be disappointed. With correct principles and an unexceptionable and popular ticket, the Democracy of Adams cannot fail of a "GOOD RESULT." Put us down "O. K!"

The Western Pennsylvania Democracy.—The Pittsburg Post has the most cheering accounts of the Democracy in the western counties of this State. As the time approaches for deciding the political complexion of the State, the earnest, honest working men of the party do not hesitate to declare all past differences forgotten, and express a willingness to co-operate for the election of the State ticket. This is as it should be, and we hail the return of friendly feeling as a certain harbinger of success. The Post has not a doubt of the triumphant election of the State ticket.

☞Rev. C. P. Krauth, D. D., of Pittsburg, has been elected pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Philadelphia, and accepts.

The Southern Elections

That have taken place during the present month, leave no room for doubt to any unprejudiced mind, that the popular sentiment is decidedly against the Opposition.

Kentucky is more strongly Democratic than at any period within the last thirty years. When the Governor and other State officers recently elected, enter upon their duties, all her Departments will be in Democratic hands, and as soon as her Legislature elects a successor to Mr. CRITTENDEN, in the United States Senate, she will be represented in that body by two Democrats!

Tennessee has re-elected Gov. HARRIS by a majority greater than that received by any Gubernatorial candidate, except himself in 1857, since 1837, and the legislature is Democratic in both branches.

Alabama has re-elected Gov. MOORE, the regular Democratic nominee, over an ultra slave code man, by a majority exceeding twenty thousand.

North Carolina has gone largely for the Democracy on the popular vote.

Texas has elected Gen. HOUSTON, who ran as an independent candidate for Governor, by a majority of several thousand. He owes his success to his frequent declarations during the campaign, of friendship for President BUCHANAN's Administration, and of opposition to filibustering and the re-opening of the African slave trade, and his open abandonment of Know-nothingism.

Tennessee Election.

It is not generally understood why the Opposition have succeeded in electing seven out of ten Congressmen in Tennessee, when the Democratic State ticket was elected by eight or ten thousand majority. The present Congressional apportionment of the State was made by an Opposition Legislature, and the design was to secure eight districts to their own party beyond possibility of loss. But two districts were so formed as to leave any hope of electing Democratic members. Hence while the State is Democratic by at least eight thousand, her representation in Congress bears a different complexion. Of the election of Governor the Nashville Union says:—

"This is the most magnificent triumph ever achieved by any other candidate in Tennessee. Two years ago the vote fell off heavily, the Know Nothings were in a dying condition, and the Opposition had not been begotten. This year the Opposition expected to carry the State, and made an effort which has never before been equalled by the opponents of Democracy in Tennessee. The last hope of John Bell was involved in the contest, and his partizans fought with the energy of despair. A majority of near NINE THOUSAND in the heaviest vote ever cast in the State, is a verdict which may be regarded as conclusive. We repeat, that the election of Gov. Harris, by such a majority, and over such an effort as was made against him, is the most majestic triumph which any man has ever obtained in a race for Governor in Tennessee."

"Our friend, Mr. DIEHL, we have an idea, will fall somewhat behind his worthy competitor, Mr. DURBORAW, as we have heard it intimated, whether true or not we cannot say, that he voted against Mr. WILL last year, and that gentleman and his friends might feel disposed to return the compliment this year."—Adams Sentinel.

☞The editor of the Sentinel has a way of giving currency to a falsehood peculiarly his own, and the above extract exhibits a case in point. Whilst with one arm encircling and fondly embracing a "friend," all smiles and kind professions to his face, he inflicts with the other a quiet and intended-to-be fatal stab in the back. We will venture to say that the editor of that paper did not when he penned it, and does not now, believe a solitary word of the slanderous "intimation" he circulates, that Capt. DIEHL "voted against Mr. WILL last year." And yet it is intended to have all the more injurious effect upon Capt. D. by being couched in the very "friendly" terms which characterize the paragraph. Such tactics may succeed for a while—but the cloven foot is sure to be detected in the end.

Those who know Capt. Diehl as we do to be an honest and earnest Democrat, will not ask a contradiction of the falsehood conveyed in the Sentinel's "intimation," but for the benefit of others we pronounce it basely untrue. Capt. Diehl did vote for Mr. Will last year, and the year before, and interested himself as became him in Mr. Will's behalf. This, many who were present at the election would testify to, were it worth while.

We regard the present as a proper period at which to put our Democratic friends throughout the county on their guard against Know Nothing falsehoods and slanders of all sorts and sizes. Shut your ears to them! They are only gotten up to deceive—to humbug the unwary into the support of the Office-seekers' or Know Nothing Black Republican ticket. The "Superior Council," composed of the leaders, know that their ticket stands no earthly chance of success unless Democratic votes are had for it, and hence their mean, cowardly and unmanly thrusts at Democratic candidates. Let the friends of our cause be warned in time, and treat dark lantern slanderers as they deserve by turning their backs upon them.

"Mr. Durboraw's prospects are very bright; and we look forward to his election by an increased majority."—Adams Sentinel.

☞All gammon! That Mr. Durboraw himself lacks the confidence in the chances of success he had last year can be seen "sticking out." He already sees the handwriting on the wall, and the "Superior Councellors" can discern nothing in the prospect that will enable them to give him encouragement. Their only hope now is in the effect their abuse and misrepresentation of Democratic candidates may have. So frail a thread do their fortunes hang upon.

The Kentucky Vote.—The vote cast in Kentucky at the late election, was very heavy.—It considerably exceeds that given at the Presidential election. MAGOFFIN's majority will be about eight thousand three hundred, and Mr. BOYD's, for Lieutenant, will be about eleven thousand. Still, Mr. BOYD's vote is not as large as Mr. MAGOFFIN's by several thousands.

Changed its Name.—The old Warren County Bank, which fell into bad credit some time ago, has had its name changed by the Court of that county, to "The North Western Bank." We do not know, however, that this will make its notes any better. We advise our readers not to touch them until they hear of some more substantial change in the affairs of the Bank, than that of its name merely.—Exchange.

The Warren County Bank is in the same condition of our political enemies—rotten to the core—and like them, hopes to deceive the people by a change of name. The game won't work, for one or the other.

☞Capt. GEORGE SANDERSON, the able editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer, is spoken of for the next Governor. Couldn't elect a better one.

Casting off Extinct Politicians.

The distinctive Republicans have no tears to shed at the defeat of the Opposition in the South. On the contrary, they experience a sensation of relief that the overthrow of the Southern Opposition thwarts the plans of the party at the North favorable to a National organization. Hereafter the field is clear for the operators of the Republicans. The New York Evening Post, in an article on the late elections at the South, takes no pains to conceal its gratification, but later alluding to the ultra position taken by the Southern Opposition says:

"Such is the policy, and such its impotent result, of a faction whose file leader, Mr. Crittenden, has been commended to the Republicans as a suitable candidate for the Presidency. For the sake of fellowship with these extinct politicians was the party urged to forego the assertion of those distinctive principles which give vitality to the Republican organization, and the abandonment of which would drive away the mass of its most efficient and unselfish supporters. For the honor of being patted on the head and saluted as a 'national party' by such allies, we in New York were requested to surrender our integrity, to forget our solemn and reiterated pledges, and all this with the inevitable result of breeding intestine disaffection, building up a third party of political abolitionists, and giving the State to the hands of the spurious Democracy."

The Republicans are determined not to "forego the assertion of their distinctive principles" for the sake of fellowship with "extinct politicians." As far as New York is concerned, we are assured that Republicans will not abate one iota of their distinctive ultraism to conciliate conservatives, moderate men, Americans, or any other class of politicians.

A different policy rules in Pennsylvania.—For the sake of fellowship with all manner of men opposed to the Democracy, the last State Convention consented to "forego the assertion of those distinctive principles which give vitality to the Republican organization." The platform was a negative piece of nothingness, without point or meaning. It dodged all the great questions before the people, and no man in the Convention had the boldness to express his convictions. The policy was union at all hazards, at any price, by the sacrifice of every principle. So completely is the party in subjection to this policy that there does not exist a paper in Pennsylvania that dares speak out boldly like the Post. The Opposition press and politicians have agreed to avoid the danger of declaring their views upon controverted points.—Patriot & Union.

From the Allentown (Pa.) Democrat.

A few Plain Questions.

Democrats! cut this out and ask your Know Nothing and Republican neighbors the following simple questions:

Who are in favor of giving negroes the right of suffrage which they refused to foreign born citizens?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who passed the law in Massachusetts preventing foreign-born citizens from voting when duly naturalized according to the Constitution of the United States?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who recommended the same law to be passed in New Jersey.

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who recommended the same law to be passed in New York?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who sanctioned and approved that odious measure in Pennsylvania, by giving silent consent in their last State Convention?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who introduced a bill in the Legislature of Ohio to strike out the word "white," from the Constitution, in order to give negroes the right of suffrage?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who are in favor of foreigners not voting until they are 21 years in this country?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who carried banners in 1856 upon which only sixteen States appeared where there should have been thirty-two?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

Who were in favor of letting the Union slide?

The Know Nothings and Republicans.

A Delicate Job.

A Boston correspondent of a Republican paper, himself an intense Republican, speaking of the next Presidential nomination, says:

"The very delicate job of constructing a platform for the Republican party, which shall accommodate John Bell and Wm. H. Seward, Carl Schurz and Gov. Banks, Tom Corwin and Charles Sumner, Eli Thayer and Joshua R. Giddings, will require great attention."

He is right. The job will be a delicate one, and we shall see how well it will be performed.

☞The Star says Mr. DURBORAW is "every day gaining ground." Yes—"over the left!" Democrats who were humbugged into his support a year ago wouldn't touch him now with a ten-feet pole. And many of his own party will turn from him when they discover, as we shall show them, from the record of the Session, that he did NOT redeem "all his pledges to his constituents!" His Legislative votes are not as unexceptionable as the Star managers, in whose hands he entirely is, would have the people believe. We have "THE DOCUMENTS!"

☞The announcement lately made in a London paper that the United States Government had acceded to the offer of the five powers for the abolition of privateering is untrue. No concession of the kind has been, or is likely to be, made by our Government.

☞Boys should look before they leap, when leaping. A boy in Brooklyn, N. Y., named Brown, made a dive on Friday week, and buried his head so deep in the mud that he was unable to extricate himself, and consequently died from suffocation.

☞A policeman in New York, last Saturday, was about to shoot a horse which had been hopelessly injured by an accident, but in cocking his revolver the hammer slipped, the cap went off, and the ball entered a German's head, killing him almost instantly.

☞Another Balloon Ascension will be made at Chambersburg, on Saturday, the 27th instant, by J. A. Light, of Lebanon.

☞Chambersburg is thirty-eight feet higher than Greencastle.

☞A Pittsburg paper says business is more lively there now than for ten years past.

Another Great Trotting Match—Flora Temple Again Victorious.—There was another exciting trotting match on Eclipse Course, L. I., on Tuesday, between Flora Temple and Princess, on a two mile heat, in which Flora was so incontestibly the victor that she left her competitor, as the phrase goes, "nowhere." Her first heat of two miles was accomplished in the unparalleled time of 4:50½; her second heat of the same distance, in 5:5. The horses are so nearly matched that betters found it most for their interest to keep their money in their pockets, though offers of $100 to $50 on Flora Temple were freely made, with no takers.

Local Affairs.

Proceedings of Court.

The attendance at Court on Monday and Tuesday was unusually large, the new Court House doubtless attracting many besides those coming on business. The building was of course much admired, and will be more so after it shall have received all the finishing touches.

The first suit tried was the old Ejectment case of Witherow vs. Epley, started in 1823, and now being carried on by the heirs and aliences of the original parties, occupying Monday, Tuesday, and part of Wednesday. The Jury rendered a verdict for the Plaintiff for the one undivided half of the property in dispute. Should this judgment be affirmed by the Supreme Court, each of the contesting parties will have secured a verdict, Epley having some years ago had a verdict in his favor affirmed by the Supreme Court. As in ejectment suits, two verdicts out of three are necessary to establish the title, we presume the present trial will not be the end of this long contested case.

The following cases were disposed of in Quarter Sessions:

Com. vs. James A. Doll.—Indictment for Larceny. Defendant not appearing, his recognizance was forfeited, Mary Yeats being the surety.

Com. vs. Jane McBride.—Indictment for Assault and Battery on person of Hannah Penrose. Verdict, Guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

Com. vs. J. Worley Jones.—Indictment for Fornication and Bastardy. Verdict, Guilty. The usual sentence as to support of child, &c., inflicted.

Com. vs. Adam Holtzworth.—Indictment for Assault and Battery, and resisting Samuel Peters, a Police Officer for Borough of Gettysburg. Verdict, Guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and give security in $500 for good behavior for 18 months.

Com. vs. Peter Andrew.—Assault and Battery on information of Jane King. Indictment ignored by Grand Jury—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. George Binder, Jr.—Libel on information of Louisa Krauter. Indictment ignored by Grand Jury—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. J. Worley Jones.—Rape, on information of Mary Bollinger. Indictment ignored—County to pay costs.

Com. vs. Lewis Kummerant and Philip Krizer.—Indictment for Malicious Mischief on information of Charles A. Shorb. Verdict, Guilty, as to Kummerant. Sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

The case of Samuel S. McNair vs. Henry Pecher—summons in debt on three bonds—was commenced on Thursday afternoon, and concluded on Saturday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict for the Defendant at 8 o'clock that evening.

Admitted to Practice.

On Monday last, on motion of Messrs. McCREARY and WILLS, Messrs. W. A. DUNCAN, A. J. COVER and J. K. McILHENNY, were admitted to the practice of the Law in the several Courts of Adams county. They underwent a rigid examination in open Court, and acquitted themselves creditably.

In the evening they entertained the members of the bench and bar, the public officers, the press, and others, in a sumptuous manner at the Eagle Hotel, on which occasion, after disposing of the "solids," speeches were made, in response to calls, by Hon. JAMES COOPER, W. H. MILLER, Esq., J. A. STOKES, Esq., Hon. E. MCPHERSON and D. McCONAUGHY, Esq. The company expressed many warm wishes for the success of the worthy young gentlemen in the profession they have selected.

Messrs. DUNCAN and McILHENNY will enter into partnership here. Mr. COVER has already opened an office on Baltimore street.

☞There will be Divine Services in the German Reformed Church of this place next Sabbath, the 28th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M.—Rev. Prof. MUHLENBERG is expected to preach.

Woods Meeting.

A Woods Meeting will commence on the 9th of September, in the evening—to continue several days—near New Chester, in this county. The exercises will be conducted by Rev. Mr. CRAWFORD and the Indian Preacher, with other Ministers of the "Church of God" from a distance.

Sunday School Pic Nic.

The Sabbath School connected with the Catholic Church had a delightful time of it at Spangler's Spring on Wednesday last. The good things were provided in great variety and abundance, and were enjoyed with a relish such as a participation in out-door innocent amusements alone can produce. The Citizens' Band were present, and contributed largely to the pleasure of the occasion by their enlivening music. The juveniles will be impatient for "this time next year" to come round again.

Pic Nics.

The Sabbath School of Christ (Lutheran) Church, in this place, are making arrangements for their annual Pic Nic, which will take place on Wednesday next, on the Conowago, near New Oxford. The Railroad Company will make special arrangements for the occasion. Parents of Sabbath School children and members of the Congregation are invited to participate, and can obtain tickets from the Committee representing the School.

The St. James' Lutheran and German Reformed Sabbath Schools also have Pic Nics in contemplation, at an early day—probably at the same place, but not yet fixed.

☞Rev. Mr. BOSSERMAN, a Universalist preacher, of Baltimore, and some years ago a resident of this place, held forth to a crowd of persons in the Diamond, on Tuesday evening last, expounding the scriptures in accordance with the version of the Universalists.—What effect, whether any, was produced by his remarks, is not within our knowledge.

☞ALLEN, the razor powder man, gave our town the benefit of his presence on Monday and Tuesday last, and doubtless "made many souls happy."

☞Mr. DANIEL BEITLER has disposed of his property in this place to CHARLES WILL, Esq., for $2,500 cash. We suppose Mr. Will will remove here in the spring.

☞The requisite number of shares of stock having been subscribed for, the Hanover Gas Company was regularly organized on Saturday evening week. They will put up the works without delay.

☞We notice a number of our citizens have commenced hoeing out the weeds and rank grass, that has been growing so luxuriantly in front of their doors during the summer months. Right.

To Advertisers.

The subscription list of the Compiler has been so much increased since the announcement made a short time ago, of our intention to publish a campaign paper at the rate of twenty-five cents, that it would be well for those who desire to have notices of their business arrangements extensively circulated, to give their advertisements a place in our columns. Those who are anxious to further their own pecuniary interests, should give this matter their especial attention.

Pictures! Pictures!

We call attention to the advertisement of TYSON & BROTHER, in another column. They have opened a Sky-Light Gallery, in the building recently purchased of the County Commissioners by Col. SAMSON, and are prepared to take Likenesses in the most superior styles of the art—Ambrotypes, Photographs, Melainotypes, Sphereotypes, &c. Their specimens of work cannot fail to give them a high recommendation. They intend locating permanently here, and will spare no efforts to deserve the public's favors.

Camp Meeting.

The great Shrewsbury Camp Meeting commenced on Thursday last, and will close on Thursday next. The number of tents on the ground is unusually large, and the crowds in attendance from all quarters are estimated high up in the thousands. Especially was such the case yesterday—special trains from Baltimore, York, Gettysburg, Littlestown and Hanover, contributing no little to the throng. The excursionists from this place left at 7 A. M., and returned about 8½ P. M.—two passenger cars, well filled from this and the way points, composing the train.

Barn Burnt.

On Monday night the barn of Mr. A. LOHR, about 9 miles from Chambersburg, was struck by lightning, and with its contents totally consumed. Mr. L. lost his entire crop of grain and hay of the late harvest. He is a brother of Maj. SAMUEL LOHR, of Franklin township, this county.

Hungarian Grass.

Our friend Capt. PHILIP J. GRAFT, of Straban township, has placed on our table a number of very fine heads of the Hungarian Grass, a new article of culture in this region. The heads are remarkably prolific in seed. Capt. Graft is favorably impressed with the grass, and thinks it will answer an excellent purpose. He expects a large yield of seed.

☞One of the most pleasant Pic Nics of the season came off near New Chester on Saturday last. Another was held on the banks of Plum Run, near the same place, on Saturday week. And still another at Hartzel's Grove, near Mummasburg, on the 6th.

☞August and September are the months when sickness most prevails, and care should be taken to keep everything in a healthy condition. We have had a healthy season thus far—let us endeavor to deserve a continuance of the blessing.

☞Make good use of time, if thou lovest eternity: yesterday cannot be recalled; to-morrow cannot be secure—to-day only is thine, which lost, is lost forever. So says somebody. "Make a note of it."

"Circulate the Documents!"

The Compiler will be furnished for the campaign at TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, paid in advance. The county canvass promises to be an interesting one, and we trust that hundreds who do not take a County Paper will avail themselves of this advantage to get The Compiler at an unprecedentedly low price. The Know Nothing Black Republican leaders and managers will, no doubt, resort to their usual game of falsehood and deception in order to carry their point, but we expect to be after them, with "a sharp stick," and to be able to expose their attempted cheats. Circulate The Compiler.

Committed.—A few days since, a young girl named Adaline M'Manus, of West Pennsborough township, was committed to jail, charged with the murder of her infant child. It will be recollected that, in May last, the dead body of a fully developed male infant was discovered in the Conodoguinet creek, near the Meeting House Springs, by a party of young men who were engaged in fishing. By reference to our paper of May 26, a full account of the finding of the body and its appearance will be found. The girl, Adaline McManus, it is strongly suspected, is the mother of the child and also its murderer, and on Friday, both she and her mother were arrested, and are now in jail to await their trial.—Carlisle Volunteer.

Gas Light on the Camp Ground.—A novel and interesting feature of the Camp Meeting of nights was the brilliant and beautiful light furnished by Col. Z. T. Windsor. It was the subject of much remark. Never before was a Camp ground lit up so handsomely by gas.—Col. Windsor, the purchaser of the patent for the State of Maryland, is entitled to much credit for the light which he has furnished of nights while the Camp continued.

Horse Stolen.—We learn that a very valuable horse belonging to Mr. Wm. H. H. Adams was stolen from the Camp Ground on Sunday night last, since which time nothing has been heard of the stolen property.—Frederick Union.

Singular Law Suit.—A singular law suit is in progress in New York. A young lady, nineteen years old, sued her guardian to compel him to reveal her parents. She has lived with him from infancy, and claims that he has property belonging to her. Recently he has refused to support her, or to deliver the property, or disclose the facts connected with her birth.

Married.

On Wednesday evening last, in Littlestown, by Rev. Mr. Henry, Mr. CHARLES SEFTON, of Fairfield, to Miss BELL WHITE, of this place.

Died.

At New Oxford, on the 14th inst., Miss WILHELMINA HOPKE, aged 78 years 7 months and 28 days.

On Wednesday night last, Mrs. ELLEN FRAZER, in the 64th year of her age.

On the 10th of August, in Huntington township, Adams county, Mrs. ANNA MARIA PLANK, at the advanced age of 88 years 6 months and 22 days. Her descendants numbered 13 children, 123 grand children, and 139 great grand children.

Communicated.

Died, on the 14th inst., at his residence, in Middletown, Mr. JACOB P. PENSYL, aged near 38 years. He has left a widow and two sons, together with a large circle of friends, to mourn his untimely removal.

O, may no gloomy crime,
Pollute the rising day;
May Jesus' blood, like morning dew,
Wash all our stains away.
May we this life improve,
To mourn for errors past;
And live this short, revolving day,
As if it were our last.
To God, the Father, Son,
And Spirit, one in three;
Be glory, as it was, is now,
And shall forever be.

Communicated.

On the 12th of August, in Franklin township, Mr. JOHN BRADY, son of John Brady, Sr., aged 21 years 11 months and 3 days. "My youthful days have passed away, that like a shadow to me have been. Now I am willing to die," said he, "and hope that I will be happy forever in eternity." R.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—The unequalled success that has attended the application of this Medicine in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchial Affections, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice; many of whom advise us of the fact under their own signature:

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

Auburn, Sept. 6, 1858.

S. W. Fowle & Co.—Sirs:—I most cheerfully add my testimony in favor of the Balsam. We have used it in our family, in Pulmonary affections, Coughs and Colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy, and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature with invariably happy results.

W. D. LYNCH, M. D.

Mansfield, Tioga co., Pa., Aug. 1858.

Gentlemen:—Having used in my practice the last four years, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, with great success, I most cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthma, &c.

H. D. MARTIN, M. D.

Cape Vincent, N. Y., July 27, 1858.

Gentlemen:—After using Dr. Wistar's Balsam for a long time I can say from repeated observation that I regard it as one of the best kind of Cough medicines, and take great pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted.

W. M. WEBB, M. D.

Brownsville, N. Y., July 18, 1858.

Gents:—Having sold Wistar's Balsam for two years past and having used the same myself with great success, I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering with Asthma or Consumption.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, No. 418, Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa. Read what is said of them:

Scott, Cattaraugus, N. Y., March 21, 1857.

Dr. C. M. Jackson. Dear sir:—In behalf of the afflicted, I pen a few lines to you. I have suffered and doctored myself, and know how to pity those in a like condition. Until I commenced taking your Bitters last summer, I was not able to do anything, or even to sit up any considerable length of time. Before I had taken the first bottle, I felt like a new man, and now, after having continued the use of them a short time, in the worst season of the year, I am able to labor hard every day. To say the least, I think I have received more benefit from the Bitters than all other medicines I have taken. I have not only used your Bitters myself, but have given bottles and parts of bottles to those complaining of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and in every case, they tell me they have taken no medicine so beneficial as the Bitters.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES VON BENSCHOTER.

A VOICE FROM VIRGINIA.

Cabin Point, Surry co., Va.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in 1854 more in April 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for the Epileptic Fits. At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about twelve years. When reaching home, I commenced with the Pills according to directions. I do not think she has had one since. My wife, though, is somewhat induced to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you will please forward me two boxes. I suppose you can forward them by mail. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully,

M. P. ELLIGE

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also a sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous diseases. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, tic-doloreux, or ordinary head ache, afflicted with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or experiencing any other phase of disability arising from the unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, motion and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those Pills, which at once calm, invigorate, and regulate the shattered nervous organization.

Sent to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore Md. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24.

☞Farm Lands for sale 25 miles from Philadelphia by Railroad in the State of New Jersey. Soil among the best for Agricultural purposes, being a good loam soil, with a clay bottom. The land is a large tract, divided into small farms, and hundreds from all parts of the country are now settling and building. The crops produced are large and can be seen growing. The climate is delightful, and secure from frosts. Terms from $15 to $20 per acre, payable within four years by instalments. To visit the place—Leave Vine Street Wharf, at Philadelphia, at 7½ A. M., by Railroad for Hammonton, or address R. J. Byrnes, by letter, Hammonton Post Office, Atlantic county, New Jersey. See full advertisement in another column.

THE HAMMONTON FARMER.—A newspaper devoted to Literature and Agriculture, also setting forth full accounts of the new settlement of Hammonton, in New Jersey, can be subscribed for at only 25 cents per annum.

Inclose postage stamps for the amount. Address to Editor of the Farmer, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic county, New Jersey. Those wishing cheap land, of the best quality, in one of the healthiest and most delightful climates in the Union, and where crops are never cut down by frosts, the terrible scourge of the north, see advertisement of Hammonton Lands.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY!—SIR JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS, prepared from a prescription by Sir J. Clarke, M. D. Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution. To MARRIED LADIES it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2d page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars get a pamphlet free of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills by return of mail.

AN ANCIENT MONSTER.—The people of South Jersey have recently exhumed from a marl bed the skeleton of an animal, which must have been of the kangaroo species, of monstrous size. Its hind legs must have been seven feet long; the entire length of the animal, tail included, at least twenty five feet. The head was small and its neck thin; its teeth about two feet long, and so arranged as to form the words, "Buy your clothing of SAMSON, opposite the Bank, Gettysburg."

☞Persons wishing to change their business to a rapidly increasing country, a new settlement where hundreds are going—where the climate is mild and delightful—see adv. of the Hammonton settlement in another column.

☞Persons wishing to establish Manufactories in a new and thriving place where business is good, see advertisement of the Hammonton settlement.

COMFORT FOR THE BALDHEADS.—A Paris letter writer says: "All the great bankers are bald—all the diplomatists, all the editors, all the managers of the theatres, all the officers of the army, all the senators, all the deputies, all the counsellors of State, all the magistrates. The most elegant men of Paris are bald; the writers are all bald. Baldness is becoming the sign of power, for every man who thinks hard in these days, thinks off his hair.—Hail to the Bald-Head-ocracy." In this country all the hard thinkers are distinguished by wearing garments procured at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

☞Shoe business and Factories can be carried on profitably at Hammonton. See adv. of Hammonton Lands.

☞The orchards of Bucks county, Pa., are laden with a heavier crop of apples than has been seen before for several years.

Valuable Farms

FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale, on very accommodating terms, TWO FARMS, the first situate in Straban township, Adams county, about three miles east of Gettysburg, and one mile from the Railroad, containing 110 Acres, more or less. The improvements are a STONE HOUSE, good Bank Barn, and other out-buildings. About 15 acres are in first rate Meadow; and there is running spring-water in every field, which never fails. There is a large ORCHARD of choice grafted fruit, about 4 acres. About 2,700 or 2,800 bushels of Lime have been put upon the Farm, and its convenience to the Railroad renders lime very accessible. There is a due proportion of Timber.

The second FARM is situated in Cumberland township, on the Emmitsburg road, a mile and a half from Gettysburg, containing 145 Acres, more or less. The improvements are a new Frame DWELLING HOUSE, large Brick Barn and other out-buildings; a well of water at the barn, and one at the house. About 22 acres are in Meadow, with a due proportion of Timber. About 3,000 bushels of Lime have been put upon the Farm.

The above properties will be at private sale until the 19th and 20th days of September, when, if not sold, the first named Farm will be offered at public sale, on the premises, on Monday, the 19th, at 1 o'clock; and the second on Tuesday, the 20th, at 1 o'clock; when terms will be made known by PETER TROSTLE.

Farm for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell his FARM, situated in Franklin township, Adams county, 2 miles west of Cashtown, on the Millerstown road. The Farm contains 75 ACRES—50 acres clear. The land is in a good state of cultivation, having been limed. There are all kinds of fruit—a thriving young Orchard of choice grafted fruit; also peaches, pears and plums of the best kinds. The buildings are a one and a half story STONE HOUSE, a large new Bank Barn, a Cooper Shop, &c. The Farm is in good order, and cannot be beat for raising potatoes. I calculate on raising eight hundred bushels this year. A never-failing spring of water at the door. SAMUEL BINGAMAN.

No. 1.—A FARM, situate in Mountpleasant township, Adams county, adjoining lands of Jacob E. Miller, Samuel Hoffman, Henry J. Hemler, and others, containing 148 Acres and 10 Perches, neat measure, about 40 acres of which are first rate Timberland, with a proper proportion of Meadow. The improvements are a large two-story BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, Bank Barn, Wagon Shed and Corn Crib, Carriage House, Spring House, with a never-failing spring in it, and well of excellent water near the door of the dwelling; a choice Apple Orchard, with a variety of other fruit, such as pears, peaches, cherries, plums, &c.

No. 2. A TRACT OF LAND, adjoining No. 1, containing 79 Acres and 142 Perches, neat measure,—about 30 acres of the tract being Woodland. The improvements consist of a large two-story Weatherboarded HOUSE, entirely new, Bank Barn, also new, with a well of water at the door, and some fruit.

No. 3.—A TRACT OF LAND, also adjoining No. 1, containing 19 Acres and 65 Perches,—about 8 acres of the tract being Woodland of the very best quality.

The three tracts have been well limed, and are in a high state of cultivation and under good fencing. The land is well watered, with a never-failing stream running along one line. The road leading from Hunterstown to McSherrystown separates Nos. 1 and 3, and the road from Bonaughtown to Kohler's mill passes through Nos. 1 and 2. The neighborhood is a pleasant one, with churches, school house, stores, mills and mechanic shops, convenient. The opportunity to purchase property so desirable is rarely offered, and the attention of those wishing to invest is called to it.

Persons desiring to view the properties are requested to call on the Heirs, residing thereon. A clear title and possession will be given on the first of April next.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by PETER SMITH, Executor.

☞If not sold on said day, the property will be offered for Rent at public outcry.

Valuable Mills & Farm,

AT ASSIGNEE SALE.—The subscriber, Assignee of MOSES STUMBAUGH and WIFE, will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Friday, the 23d day of September next, that valuable Mill and Farm property situate in Straban township, Adams county, about half a mile from New Chester, the Farm containing 48 ACRES, more or less. The improvements are two good Dwelling HOUSES, Frame Barn, an excellent GRIST AND MERCHANT MILL, with fine Water Power; a good SAW MILL; fine Orchard, well of water, and other improvements. This property is situated on Great Conowago, and supposed to be the Best Mill Seat on that stream. The Mills are in good order, having been thoroughly repaired within the last few years, with metal gearing, &c. These Mills have as good a run of custom as any other in the county, being able to run when other Mills cannot, in time of drought.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by

JOHN F. FELTY, Assignee.

Excelsior Sky-Light Gallery,

NORTH-EAST Corner of the Diamond, (in the upper story of the Old County Building, recently purchased by Col. Samson,) Gettysburg, Pa.—The undersigned, having fitted up the above named Gallery, with the intention of locating a First Class establishment, are now prepared to furnish the best Ambrotype and Photographic Likenesses in the latest styles, by new and improved processes. Having had several years' experience in Philadelphia, they feel confident of giving entire satisfaction to all who may favor them with their patronage. They have constructed one of the best Sky-lights in the country, which, with the best Instruments and materials, cannot fail to produce, at all times, superior work. Ambrotypes, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes, and Patent Leather pictures, on the most reasonable terms, in cases or frames, of the latest patterns and best quality.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—This style of picture has become the favorite in cities, on account of its life-like appearance and perfect durability; being put up in neat gilded frames of various sizes, are more acceptable as family portraits than the smaller pictures. They have not been generally introduced until recently, in consequence of the difficulty of their production, and the necessity of long and tedious sittings, which have been overcome by F. J. Evans' new improved process, the entire right for the use of which we hold for Adams county. The time of sitting has now been reduced from minutes to a few seconds, and greater beauty and perfection given to the likeness. They possess this important advantage over the other pictures, viz: from one sitting any number of Photographs can be supplied without any further trouble to the sitter, and all as perfect as the first impression. These pictures are furnished Plain, finished in India Ink, Water or Oil Colors.

Life Size Photographs, finished in Oil, superior to oil paintings.

ENLARGED PHOTOGRAPHS.—Persons having small daguerreotypes of deceased friends, can have them enlarged by this process, and finished superior to the original, and thereby rendered more life-like and durable.

Pictures set in Lockets, Rings, &c., &c.

All pictures warranted to give satisfaction, or re-taken.

Open from 7 o'clock, A. M., until 6, P. M.

New Agricultural Settlement.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate, 25 miles southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, New Jersey.—An old estate, consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil, has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser.—A population of some fifteen hundred, from various parts of the middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre; the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frost—the destructive enemy of the farmer.—Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and peach orchards planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET, as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours' ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before.—The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, and such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a free ticket for six months, and a half-price ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.—In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would affect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land: leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia, for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic county, New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth street, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

ESTABLISHMENT, in the N. W. corner of the Diamond, Gettysburg, Pa.—The place to buy in order to save money!—The subscriber would most respectfully inform the citizens of Gettysburg and surrounding country, that he has opened a large Boot and Shoe Establishment, in the northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, in the rooms recently occupied by D. Wills, Esq., as a Law Office, where he has now on hand, and will continue to keep for sale, an extensive variety of work, of his own manufacture. The work is made up in the best and most durable manner, including all the newest styles, and embraces BOOTS & SHOES, Men's, Women's and Children's GAITERS, in short, every article usually to be found in a first class establishment of the kind. He has now and will continue to have employed a number of workmen, "hard to beat," to make up customer work. That he will sell CHEAP, is easily proven. Give him a call, examine his Boots, Shoes and Gaiters, and get his prices. With unexceptionable work and low rates, he hopes for and expects a fair share of the public's patronage.

☞Shoemakers are informed that he always keeps on hand "UPPERS," for Shoes and Gaiters, ready for bottoming, which he disposes of on pleasing terms. JOHN BALLWEG.

Dr. M'Lane's

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS

CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE & LIVER PILLS.—We beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to DR. CHAS. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS. We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz: The VERMIFUGE, for expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms. The LIVER PILLS, for the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of FEVER AND AGUE, preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the Proprietors, FLEMING BROTHERS, PITTSBURG, PA., to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last 20 years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pill shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROTHERS,
Pittsburg, Pa.

P. S.—Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

For sale by A. D. Buehler, Agent, Gettysburg, and by dealers generally throughout the county.

Elastic Cement

ROOFING.—The subscribers are prepared to contract and put on at the shortest notice, W. E. Child & Co.'s PATENT FIRE AND WATER PROOF ELASTIC CEMENT ROOFING.

It is perfectly Fire and Water proof, and in point of durability is equal, if not superior, to any Metalic Roofing. It can be put on over tin, tar, iron, or shingle roofs, however flat or steep they may be.

In point of resisting the elements of fire and water, nothing has yet been discovered equal to the Elastic Cement.

Those who have used it, have testified that it is the very perfection of Roofing, and that there is no further room for improvement. No one will now think of putting on shingles, when this Cement can be had for much less money and will outwear four shingle roofs. This Roofing is warranted as represented.

The Elastic Cement is the cheapest and best protection from decay for wood exposed to the weather or dampness of the ground. It is also the best paint for iron, effectually preventing rust; and wherever applied perfectly excludes dampness.

The subscribers have this Cement for sale, in quantities to suit. For further information, apply to

New Store!

NEW FIRM! NEW GOODS!—A. SCOTT & SON take pleasure in announcing to the public that they have just opened a new and complete Dry Goods and Grocery Store on the corner of Chambersburg and Washington streets, in the Borough of Gettysburg, opposite the "Eagle Hotel," where they are now and will be prepared at all times to offer bargains to suit the purse and please the people.

By conducting our business on the CASH SYSTEM, with the motto "Quick Sales and Small Profits," and by pursuing a strictly honorable course, we hope to receive the encouragement, not only of the citizens of Gettysburg and Adams county, but the rest of mankind. We have just returned from the cities with a handsome assortment of SPRING & SUMMER GOODS, embracing all manner of Ladies' Dress Goods, of the most beautiful styles, Fancy Articles, Bonnets and Bonnet Trimmings, Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c.

Also, a large assortment of QUEENSWARE. Our stock of GROCERIES is also large and complete. We will not take time to particularize, but invite all to call and see—no trouble to show goods. A. SCOTT & SON.

O.—For Sore, Weak, or Inflamed Eyes and Eyelids; Failing, Weak, or Blurred Sight.

C.—For Catarrh, of long standing or recent, either with obstruction or profuse discharge.

W. C.—For Whooping Cough, abating its violence and shortening its course.

In all ACUTE DISEASES, such as Fevers, Inflammations, Diarrheas, Dysentery, Croup, Rheumatism, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas—the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened and rendered less dangerous. Even should a physician afterwards have to be called, he will take the case at decided advantage from the previous treatment.

COUGHS AND COLDS, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, bronchitis, and consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all CHRONIC DISEASES, such as Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Piles, Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headache, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles, or Catarrh, Headache, or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

"HIAWATHIAN."

GO to Tipton's—go to Tipton's—
Go to Tipton's in the corner—
In the corner in the Diamond—
In the Diamond near McClellan's,
If you want your hair dressed finely—
If you want your face shaved smoothly.
Bachelors who never knew it—
Tip's the fellow that can do it—
Do it in the latest fashion—
Do it quick and do it neatly,
And improve your fine looks greatly,
Make you look so young and sprightly,
Make you feel more young and brightly,
Make you feel like going nightly
To call upon some pretty damsel
Who before would not look at you,
At you as you passed her daily,
Daily on the public street.
And young men who wear moustaches,
Who want some one to sew patches—
Patches where your breeches tear—
Tip's the boy to make up matches—
Matches with some lady fair.
Then repair to Tipton's shop,
Dandy, Fogy, Flirt and Fop.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; 5 Boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our Remedies are for sale by

Notice.

THE undersigned having retired from the Mercantile business, the same will hereafter be continued at the old stand, in Baltimore street, by their sons, Henry B. Danner and Waybright Ziegler, under the name and style of Danner & Ziegler, Jrs., whom we will recommend to, and for whom we would bespeak a liberal share of patronage from old customers, and of the public in general.

Having retired from the Mercantile business, it is necessary that our old business should be settled up. We, therefore, notify all those indebted to us either by Judgment, Note or Book Account, to call and settle the same without delay. The books will be found at the old stand.

Howard Association,

PHILADELPHIA.—A Benevolent Institution established by Special Endowment for the Relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases.

In times of Epidemics, it is the object of this Institution to establish Hospitals, to provide Nurses, Physicians, Clothing, Food, Medicines, &c., for the sick and destitute, to take charge of the orphans of deceased parents, and to minister in every possible way to the relief of the afflicted and the health of the public at large. It is the duty of the Directors, at such times, to visit personally the infected districts, and to provide and execute means of relief. Numerous physicians, not acting members of the Association, usually enrol their names on its books, subject to be called upon to attend its hospitals, free of charge.

In the absence of Epidemics, the Directors have authorized the Consulting Surgeon to give advice and medical aid to persons suffering under CHRONIC DISEASES of a virulent character, arising from abuse of the physical powers, mal-treatment, the effects of drugs, &c.

Various REPORTS and TRACTS on the nature and treatment of Chronic Diseases, by the Consulting Surgeon, have been published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent FREE of CHARGE to the afflicted.

Address, for reports or treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth Street, Philad'a, Pa.
